Volume XVII

Foreword

CATO has said that old age should be full of pleasant memories. In order that we may further enjoy the friends we met in our high school lives and refresh our minds with the most pleasant memories of the past, we, the Modulus staff representing the Class of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-Eight, publish this annual.

Senior Class

MARGARET SCUDDER was elected President of the Senior Class soon after the semester began. Marjorie Bayless was chosen Vice-President, Liliosa Eisenhauer, Secretary; Gertrude Peting, Treasurer, and Miss Hoffman, Advisor.

The first social event of the year was a weiner roast at Memorial Park after the football game with Logansport.

A Christmas party was held on December 19. A pantomine, "And the Lamp Went Out," was presented by the following girls: Marjorie Bayless, Catherine Lengel, Jane Griffith, Dorothy Craft, and Mamie Lesh.

The Seniors and especially the Cast set an example for future classes when they presented "The Thirteenth Chair," February 9 and 10. This was not only a great success artistically but also financially. The class took in more money than any previous class. By the untiring efforts of Miss Taylor and Miss Rupert, under the supervision of Arthur J. Beriault of Indianapolis, the play went over in the best of form.

The Cast was entertained by the Hi-Y in the club rooms a few days following the presentation of the play.

The Class entertained the Cast on April 13 at a dinner at the Elks Home. Following this the Cast motored to Lagro where "The Thirteenth Chair" was presented by the Lagro Class, thus "seeing themselves as others saw them."

The class has not failed in anything that they have undertaken, and with Miss Hoffman as Advisor throughout its organization in school it enjoyed an unusually successful high school career.

The Junior Class of 1927-1928 was organized early in the fall semester with the election of officers taking place. Jeanne Felton was elected President of the class. She was Recording Secretary of the Sunshine Society and has been active in other branches of school activities. The others who were elected were as follows: Jack Barnhisel, Vice-President; Betty King, Secretary; and Benjamin Ahlschwede, Treasurer. Miss Taylor was elected Class Advisor. At this meeting the committees were chosen, and plans were made for the social and the business activities of the year.

The Juniors have shown fine cooperation this year in all their undertakings. Despite the fact that they lost the sale of candy at tournament time, in the halls, and at the carnival, they have made as much money as any class due to the sale of candy at games and the sponsoring of movies.

The members of the class were entertained at a Hallowe'en party in October. It was the first social function of the Juniors and was well attended. The club rooms were decorated with huge stalks of corn and Hallowe'en colors of orange and black. Mrs. Ernest Stults, who is known to the high school students as the "lady who tells fortunes," appeared in her usual style and proved to be one of the main features of the evening. Following the grand march various types of stunts were given and prizes were awarded to the winners.

The Juniors presented a picture show, "Figures Don't Lie," on November 9 and 10 at the Jefferson Theatre. Esther Ralston was featured as the star of the play with Richard Arlen and Ford Sterling her supporting cast. Eight hundred six tickets were sold and $112.80 was taken in. This is more than any high school organization has ever made by sponsoring a show.

The Juniors sponsored a sale of tickets which could be redeemed at the Olympia on February 17 and 18. Pauline Evans who is chairman of the candy committee was in charge of these tickets.

They also presented "Serenade", a show at the Jefferson Theatre on April 4 and 5. The committee in charge consisted of William Whitelock, Frederic Grayston, and Letha Rickert.

The most outstanding event of the year put on by the third-year class is always the Junior-Senior Reception, held this spring at the Masonic Temple, Thursday, May 24. The following committees were appointed for this event:

Invitations: Frances Beeson, chairman; John Satterthwaite, Robert Petrie, and Clara Jane Richards.

Decorations: Letha Rickert, chairman; Velma Parker, Waldo Hubartt, Russell Ade, Marjorie Blackburn, James Favorite, Nettie Lobdell, Roger Ware, Alberta Sands, and Harvey Collins.

Program: William Whitelock, chairman; Geraldine Royer, Frederic Grayston, and Sumner Sale.

Benjamin Ahlschwede was chairman of the finance committee. Other members were Florence Tuxworth, Helen Johnson, and Harold McIntire.

Besides these committees for the annual reception, the Junior Class had various other committees formed for the year's work. This year the Class had a general committee composed of Alberta Sands, chairman; Helen Herzog, Mana Walburn, Arzetta Brickley, Robert Bauman, and Hilda Beaver.

The social committee included Clara Jane Richards, chairman; Nettie Lobdell, William Whitelock, Louise Broyles, and Melba Vale.

Frances Beeson was chairman of the entertainment committee and was assisted by James Favorite, Anne Steiber, Madalyn Hoffman, Charles Bridge, and Ruth Herendeen.

The flower and motto committee included Burl Chalmers, chairman; Velma Parker, Dorothy Smith, Lucile Fuller, John Satterthwaite, Russell Ritchey, and Ruth McDevitt.

Benjamin Ahlschwede was chairman of the show committee and Myrtle Louise Earhart, Roger Ware, William Calvert, and Isabel Oswalt were the other members composing this committee.

The candy committee was headed by Alice Ditzler, who later resigned because of entering the Senior Class. Pauline Evans was appointed in her place, and the other members of this committee were: Myrtle Louise Earhart, Wilda Shipley, Jack Barnhisel, Benjamin Ahlschwede, Frederic Grayston, Jeanne Felton, William Calvert, Roger Ware, and Harold McIntire.

This year the Junior Class had pins. These were of the class colors, lavender and green. They were in the shape of an "H," and were divided diagonally, the upper triangle lavender, and the lower triangle green. A small "H" was in one corner, and "S" in the opposite, with '29 in the middle of the "H". The pin committee included Geraldine Royer, chairman; Russell Ritchey, Mabel Christ, Robert Petrie, Nila Galliher, Letha Rickert, and Alice Ditzler.

The class has been very active in all school activities this year. Those on the World staff were John Satterthwaite, Feature Editor; Joe Sowerwine, Advertising Manager; Lydia Winkleman, Advertising Solicitor; and Jeanne Felton, Hilda Beaver, Frances Beeson, and Geraldine Royer, reporters.

The Rostra staff, the Latin publication, was composed mostly of Juniors who studied Cicero. Those of the Juniors on the staff were: Jeanne Felton, Editor; Joy Reiff, Feature Editor; and Hilda Beaver, Business Manager.

Eight Juniors served on the Student Council. These were: DeVon Blackburn, Arzetta Brickley, Clifford White, Jack Barnhisel, Robert Petrie, Sam Heeter, Angeline Holbrook, and Benjamin Ahlschwede.

The monitors from the Junior Class were: Ruth Foust, Miriam Brown, Helen Herzog, Idella Taylor, Kenneth Burley, Lucreta Schooley, Dorothy Septer, Anne Steiber, Hilda Beaver, George Jordan, Alberta Sands, Ione Gable, Nettie Lobdell, Paul Shock, Ruth Herendeen, Mana Walburn, and Ruth McDevitt during the first semester. The second semester the following Juniors served: Lydia Winkleman, Irene Poling, Jeanne Felton, Lawrence Kethcart, Charles Lay, Joe Kohr, Louise Broyles, Charles Bridge, William Whitelock, Dorothy Septer, Jewell Dolby, Hilda Beaver, Mana Walburn, Idella Taylor, Paul Shock, and Alberta Sands.

The Juniors taking part in the debate this year were Jeanne Felton and Betty King. They did very splendid work and will be good for next year's debating team since they have had some experience.

Robert Petrie, the captain of the Vikings, was a Junior. Other Juniors on the basketball team were Ted Welch and Jack Barnhisel. William Whitelock and Maurice Newell belonged to the Scyldings.

Those taking part in the interclass basketball team were: Maurice Newell, captain; Ralph Hosler, Hazen Shideler, Jack Barnhisel, Wilfred Ufheil, Joe Heaston, and William Whitelock.

On the football field the Juniors also made a good showing. Those that played during the season were Gerald Jung, DeVon Young, James Favorite, Ralph Chevalier, Joe Heaston, Harold Blackburn, Ted Welch, Russell Ade, Donald McClure, Paul Arnold, Charles LaVine, Robert Bauman, and DeVon Blackburn.

The Junior girls that were on the basketball team were Helen Johnson, Wanda Shipley, Audrey Buzzard, Marjorie Blackburn, Dorothy Sheets, Myrtle Louise Earhart, Wilda Shipley, Marjorie Morgan, and Alice Ditzler.

The class has been active all during the year from beginning to end. Miss Taylor, Junior Advisor, has worked hard all during the year to make the class a success, and her help and supervision was more than appreciated.

Members of the Sophomore Class were organized at a meeting for the election of officers held late in September. An interesting feature of the election is the fact that only one girl was elected to office. Officers elected were: Rex Rudicel, President; Max Potts, Vice-President; Joe Shock, Secretary; and Lois Swihart, Treasurer. Jack Brown was later elected to hold the position of secretary vacated by Joe Shock. The Sophomores evidently chose to be the first class to honor a man to act as class advisor when they chose Gordon Cook.

A Christmas party was held by the Sophomores Wednesday, December 21, in the club rooms. An enormous grab-bag was an item on the program that caused much merriment. Games were enjoyed during the evening, and the affair was closed with the serving of refreshments. Members of the social committee who had charge of preparations for the party were: Maxine Chalfant, chairman; Delene Lobdell, Joe Foote, Rex Rudicel, Olive Lesh, Esther Repp, Hazel Claire Robertson, Martha Dungan, Eldon Eubank, and William Robinson.

Due to the fact that the Sophs are allowed but two parties during the year, an outdoor party was held early in May. The gathering was a great success, and a large number attended. The committee in charge of the arrangements for this affair were: Joe Shock, chairman; Harold Blackburn, Rex Rudicel, Eldon Eubank, William Robinson, and Joe Foote.

Since the Sophomores have been so active this year, it is evident that they will be equally successful as a Junior and Senior body. Good organization, sportsmanship, and school spirit gives them a good start toward this goal.

A number of the Sophomore boys who went out for football gained enough experience during the season to make them valuable material for next year's team. Suits were given to these Sophs: Eugene Casper, Clyde Todd, Bob Whitted, William Robinson, Dick Reetz, Eugene Swaim, Ernest Fryback, and Jack Wolverton. Six boys, Charles LaVine, DeVon Young, Ralph Chevalier, Harold Blackburn, Gerald Jung, and Joe Shock, were members of the Viking squad during the season.

Sophomore athletes made a good record in basketball as well as in football, and the team next year will have a number of members of the Class of 1930. Rex Rudicel and Fred Cussen served as forewards on the class team, and other members of the squad were Max Potts, Bob Shoemaker, Lawrence Kethcart, Nelson Bechstein, and Clarence Lahr. Ted Welch made the varsity team, while Fred Cussen played with the Scyldings. George Jordan was the only member of the class to participate in baseball.

Nine boys went out for track this year. They were Harold Blackburn, Clarence Lahr, Charles LaVine, Eldon Rice, Dick Reetz, William Robinson, Joe Shock, Ted Welch, and DeVon Young. Letter awards were made during the athletic season to DeVon Young, Ralph Chevalier, Harold Blackburn, Charles LaVine, Gerald Jung, and Joe Shock.

The girls' basketball team was very strong this year due to the members and the fact that two girls came from out of town; namely, Florence Walters from Clear Creek and Lela Weaver of Bippus. The other members of the team were Minnie Peting, Mabel Overholt, Margaret Mehrling, Pauline Sprowl, Florence Hawkins, Mary Newell, Mary Elizabeth Holabird, and Mona Mae Christy.

Swimming classes were organized, and a large number of girls responded. Classes were conducted each Wednesday evening in the Egyptian pool at the Hotel LaFontaine. Sophomore girl swimmers were Ruth Pohler, Betty Young, Mary Ellen Willis, Virginia Willis, Maxine Ade, Janet Cline, Dorothy E. Smith, Lois Swihart, Phyllis Sale, Helen Weber, Miriam Dumbald, Jane Wheeler, Mary Casper, Hazel Claire Robertson, Mona Mae Christy, Margaret Frederick, Shirley Hawes, Adelene Welch, and Lucile Wienke.

A number of the Sophomore girls entered the Glee Club, which was divided into four parts, having a total membership limit of forty. There were twenty members in the first and second soprano division and twenty in the first and second alto. Girls who represented the class in this organization were: Agnes Adams, Martha Beaver, Maxine Chalfant, Mona Mae Christy, Lois Forster, Wanda Hubbart, Laura Kenner, Elizabeth Lengel, Olive Lesh, Delene Lobdell, Wilda Mae Lucas, Hazel Claire Robertson, Mae Shideler, Miriam Smith, Wanda Smith, Jane Wheeler, and Emily Young.

Many Sophomore girls were honored with membership in the G. A. A. This organization has proved very helpful to the school and was very popular among the girls. The members of the Sophomore Class were Margaret Fredericks, Frances Schenkel, Florence Hawkins, Lela Weaver, Anita Streseman, Dorothy Guhl, Jane Knight, Cecile Holsworth, Doris Wiley, Isabelle Bolinger, Pauline Beverly, Martha Beaver, Mabel Overholt, Mardella Musselman, Wanda A. Smith, Roberta Young, Agnes Adams, Mary Elizabeth Holabird. Sophomore girls also took part in the oratorical and essay contests on the Constitution. Jane Wheeler, Miriam Dumbauld, and Lucile Wienke served in the oratorical division of this contest. Those in the essay division were Thea Neuman, Mary Gardner, Ruth Luellan, and Pauline Beverly. Students who were entered in the oratorical division of the elimination spoke before the high school body in the auditorium. A committee composed of three teachers judged the essay division, six of the best writers representing the school in the county meet. Lucile Wienke won first place in the oratorical contest.

The Sophomore representatives to the Student Council were Margaret McNabb and Joe Myers.

Twenty-nine of these classmen were members of the S. P. Q. R. Club, the organization of Latin students. They were as follows: Eugene McIntire, William Robinson, Rex Rudicel, Olive Lesh, Florence Walters, Emily Young, Agnes Adams, Charles Lay, Joe Foote, Joe Shock, Cecile Holsworth, Gwendolyn Mahoney, Lois Forster, Virginia Laurie, Miriam Smith, Fredonia Stewart, Jane Wheeler, Mary Ellen Willis, Dick Reetz, Fred Bolinger, Dorothy Kenner, Wilda Mae Lucas, Corlene Shock, Isabel Teusch, Dorothea Martin, Ruby Iry, Rose Petrucelle, Lucile Wienke, and Miriam Dumbauld. Olive Lesh, Shirley Hawes and Helen Weber represented the class in the County Latin Contest.

Many Sophomores were in the High School Orchestra this vear. They were Helen Maranda, Lois Swihart, Betty Young, Marguerite Buzzard, Wilda Mae Lucas, Dorothy Kenner, Esther Repp, Lois Forster, Ruby Iry, Wanda Hubbart, Marjorie Rhodenbaugh, Erlean Roudebush, Phyllis Sale, Helen Schell, Heiney Wagner, Lowell Buzzard, Paul Cozad, and Gwendolyn Mahoney.

In addition to this, many Sophs took part in the High School Band. Those in the band were: Muriel Mahoney, Fred Hosler, Fred Derr, Paul Cozad, Joe Foote, Richard Reetz, Ruby Iry, Corlene Shock, John Berringer, Wanda Hubartt, Dean Martin, Lowell Buzzard, Heiney Wagner, Charles Lay, Erlean Roudebush, Marjorie Rhodenbaugh, Phyllis Sale, Helen Schell, and Maxine Ade.

The Sophomore boys in the Hi-Y organization were: Edward Ackerman, Charles LaVine, DeVon Young and Max Potts.

Members of the Sophomore Class whose pictures were not included in the Modulus are as follows: John Berringer, Harvey Boyer, Jack Brown, Marguerite Brown, Mary Brown, Irene Burley, Beatrice Call, Wilbur Carmichael, Paul Carrol, George Coble, Lucile Daniels, Norma Ferguson, Hubbart Freed, Flossie Gable, Homer Galliher, Geraldine Hoke, Olive Lesh, Delene Lobdell, Georgianna Lyman, Ben Myers, Rose Petrucelle, Raymond Pohler, Dorothy Rankin, Maurice Robbins, Mildred Steffy, Jane Wheeler, Naomi Whitmore, Virginia Willis, Mary Ellen Willis, Maurice Wright, and Roberta Young.

Joe Mann was elected President of the Freshman Class at their first meeting at the beginning of the term. Other officers elected were: Jane Wheeler, Vice-President; and Laura Kenner, Secretary-Treasurer. Later in the year Jane Wheeler took the office of President left vacant by Joe Mann, and Tom Wasmuth was made Vice-President. Miss Ridgway was elected Class Advisor.

Although the Freshman Class is not organized as regularly as the upper groups, this year's class chose its leaders early in the first semester. The Class of 1930 did not organize in its Freshman year, the last one being the Class

The Freshmen started social activities with a Hallowe'en party in November, which was attended by more than one hundred students. The committee in charge of the affair was: Jane Wheeler, Laura Kenner, Tom Wasmuth, and Joe Mann. Wanda Smith, impersonating an aged woman, took first prize in a costume contest held in connection with the affair. Chaperones of the party were: Miss McMullan, Miss Hoffman, Beatrice Brown, and Miss Ridgway.

Tom Wasmuth made fame for the class when he took first place in the sectional and district Peace Oratorical Contest.

Freshmen boys who served on the Scyldings were Fred Hosler and Doyle Zook.

Robert Brahs was the only Freshman who attained a place on the football squad due to the fact that not many Freshmen were attracted. Class basketball, however, caused more response from the boys, and the members who responded were: Willis Carrol, Jack Berringer, Fred Derr, Freeman Guest, Dale Chesterman, Russell Bolinger, James Krieger, Tom Wasmuth, and Clifford Miller.

Girls of the class responded to the swimming classes held each Wednesday evening at the Hotel LaFontaine. Freshmen members of the water classes were: Helen Jane Meier, Elizabeth Ewing, Rose Blockson, Helen Sparks, Jenessee Folk, Katherine Harger, Jean Smith, Frances Doudna, Maxine Tallman, Delores Klinger, Alice Hurd, Dorothy Hannon, and Miriam Kiracofe.

Only three Freshman girls took part in the Girls' Glee Club of the high school. They were Geraldine Zahn, Ossa Hamilton, and Ruth Robbins.

A large number of the class held membership in the Latin Club. The members were as follows: Eleanor Beaver, Winifred Gray, Dea Michael, Carl Krieger, Willis Carrol, Donald Snider, Ruth Harvey, Jack Nie, James Krieger, Dale Chesterman, Toby Tyler, Fred Dick, Hugh Hartman, Ray Lauer, Tom Wasmuth, James Branyan, Hildreth Kern, Louise McFarlane, and Berniece Hippensteel. Freshmen who were in the county Latin Contest were Helen Jane Cook and Lillian Raver.

A large number of the Freshmen girls were initiated into the Sunshine Society the first and second semesters. They were inducted with the candle-light service that is regularly used as a part of the ceremony. Several of the new members took part in the Sunshine play, "Why the Chimes Rang," which was presented in the auditorium at Christmas time.

Many of the girls were active in gym work, and took part in the "Gym Frolic." Several were included in the special dance groups.

Many Freshmen were in the band work, and in the advanced classes showed almost as much skill as some of the older members of the organization. Members of the advanced band were as follows: Donald Snider, Jack Bischoff, Helen Jane Cook, Hugh Hartman, Toby Tyler, Charles LaBarr, Clifford Miller, and Jean Smith. Ten Freshmen were in the beginners class. They were as follows: Helen Jane Cook, Hugh Hartman, Lucile Obenour, Jack Bischoff, Ruth Wike, Dea Michael, Tom Wasmuth, Ray Lauer, Pearl McFarlane, and Toby Tyler.

Members of the class who gained special credit in hiking, swimming, skating, volley ball, basketball, and baseball were given membership in the Girls' Athletic Association. Approximately sixty girls, four of these Freshmen, attained membership in this, sixty points being required for admittance. Freshman members of the G. A. A. were: Mabel Richardson, Evangeline Kearney, Maxine Tallman, and Mary Louise Henry.

The Annual

WITH the idea of producing a different type of annual this year, the Modulus Staff was organized and began work at once. The theme of the entire book was based on the name "Modulus" which is of Latin derivation.

The cover is of an entirely new design and is perhaps the most elaborate ever to have been used in Huntington High School. The art work carried out by Burl Chalmers corresponded with the cover and was used from the Latin which made it entirely different from other years.

All organization and athletic pictures were taken and developed by Mr. Day who used the school camera purchased in 1927.

This was the first year in the history of the book that the advertising was omitted. This was done through the co-operation of the business men and by the use of the "little blue receipt books" in which each student was supposed to have all his purchases recorded.

Another new idea was carried out this year in the form of pupil's subscriptions. Instead of paying the price all at once for the Modulus subscription, pupils were permitted to pay for their copies through the school bank. By signing a contract at the first of the year, the students could bank the rate of six cents each week, and this paid for their subscriptions. This was found to be very successful since it made the price easier to meet, and more pupils could afford copies.

This year's staff attempted to continue the high standard set by the annual of 1927 which won a silver loving cup for first place in its division in the contest conducted by the Indiana High School Press Association, and All-American ranking in the judging of the Scholastic Editor contest.

The School World

AN issue every week of the school year, several special editions, and a larger regular issue were among the achievements of the Journalism Department in the editing and publishing of The School World during the year.

Third place was awarded the publication by the Indiana High School Press Association in the contest of 1926-1927, and All-American honors in the contest conducted by the Scholastic Editor. The same high standard was held by the Staff this year, and many improvements were made.

Joe Sowerwine, Advertising Manager, achieved an honor for the Department when his entry in the National Advertising Contest conducted by Quill and Scroll won first place. The advertisement was written and sold by Joe, and was considered the best among the entries from the three hundred chapters of the society.

A new position, that of General Manager, was created during the second semester for Helen Miles in recognition of her excellent supervision of the work of publication. Helen was largely responsible for the improved appearance of the paper because of her untiring efforts in overseeing the makeup.

The editorial page acquired an improved tone and character under Lena Johnson, and several new features were added. The business matters were efficiently handled during the year by Ilo Plasterer.

The advertising in the paper evidenced that the merchants recognized more than ever the importance of the publication as a medium through which the patronage of the pupils and parents can be reached.

The Rostra

UNDER the supervision of Miss Beatrice Brown, the Rostra was published April 24 for the third consecutive year. The papers were distributed during the activity period to all subscribers. The price of the issue was 20 cents.

The staff was made up mostly from the Cicero class and included: Redactor Princeps, Jeanne Felton; Administrator Negoti, Hilda Beaver; Recensuit Ioca, Joy Reiff; Redactor Actorum, Geraldine Coble; and Scriptores: Anne Steiber, Betty King, Marjorie Mann, Alberta Sands, Dorothy Craft, Helen Maranda, Martha Dungan, Charles Bridge, Donald Swoverland, William Scheerer, and Praeceptor, Miss Brown.

The Rostra consisted of eight pages including the cover which was designed by Caroline Rose Redrup in 1926. The issue this year was composed for the greater part from the English language and also contained punning riddles, jokes, poems, stories, and Roman mythology. Several writeups were given to the S. P. Q. R. Club and the Latin Contest.

In 1926 Miss Ruby Etter, seeing the possibility of a publication representing the Latin department, originated the idea in Huntington High School, and it has been maintained thus far.

The editors in 1927 were Gertrude Peting and Helen Miles while Lucile Houser was the Business Manager. Miss Etter was the Faculty Advisor the two preceding years, while this is the first year for Miss Brown.

The success of this year's issue lies wholly in the services of Miss Brown. Handicapped by this being her first year as a faculty member of Huntington High School, she has filled her position as Faculty Advisor of the Rostra unusually well.

ON April 20 the National Honor Society was announced according to the decision of the committee in charge. From the class of '28 chosen last year were Marjorie Bayless, Lucile Houser, Lena Johnson, Lyman Kitt, and Margaret Scudder.

The representatives of the Senior Class this year are: Alice Ditzler, Gertrude Peting, Martha Scudder, Omer Shideler, Burl Chalmers, Oscar Kline, Harold Bailey, George Miller, Catherine Lengel, and Ruth Adams. With the number chosen last year the membership is increased to fifteen students.

Those picked from the Junior Class included Benjamin Ahlschwede, Jeanne Felton, Betty King, Velma Parker, Roy Reiff, and William Whitelock.

Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, school spirit, and character. While acceptable grades are required, honor roll standard is not essential as long as there are qualifications of the other sort that weigh in favor of the candidate. All the faculty members participate in the nomination of candidates before the final decision is made, and these nominations are considered by a committee of teachers in choosing the members.

According to the national constitution it provides that a total of fifteen per cent of the Senior Class and five per cent of the Junior Class may be chosen. Since five members of the '28 class were elected last year it left a balance of ten members for this year. The Junior Class numbered 108 so six were selected to make up the five per cent.

IN the first semester of 1927 Huntington High School was granted a charter in the N. H. S. H. S. J., the National Honor Society for High School Journalists. The purpose of the society is to encourage creative work in the journalism department.

To become a member of the organization one must be of the Junior or Senior Class, he must be in the upper third of the class in general scholastic standing, he must have done outstanding work in writing, editing, or business management, and he must he recommended by the supervisor of publications and accepted by the National Secretary-Treasurer of the society. Due to the qualifications and the small number selected for the organization it is rated with the Honor Society. There are three classes of membership: active, faculty, and honorary.

Early in January the Quill and Scroll was organized for the year 1928. At this time AnnaBelle Utter, Gertrude Peting, Lena Johnson, Helen Miles, and Dorothy Mauger were initiated in the society. Lucile Houser was chosen a member while a Junior last year.

An election of officers took place after the initiation at the home of Lucile Houser. The local society's constitution was drawn up by Lytle Freehafer and Benjamin Kizer of the organization of 1927, and provides for a membership of ten each year. Since there were only six members this year, and since four more were qualified for the society, Virgilius Ufheil, Joe Sowerwine, Burl Chalmers, and Ilo Plasterer were initiated the latter part of the year.

Student Council

ATTAINING the highest standard achieved since its organization, the Student Council proved to be a more democratic asset than ever before. Old misdemeanors were ironed out, and new problems of school discipline were quickly checked.

The principles of the organization are to maintain better standards of school citizenship by allowing the respective members to help in the passing of the school ordinances. These members are representatives elected by the sponsor groups at the beginning of the school term in September. This allows each group to bring through its representative any law or regulation which they may wish to see in action. If the action is of sufficient benefit to the school it is brought up to a vote and a majority brings it into effect.

Among the leading steps taken up by the council were those pertaining to the election of yell-leaders and student smoking. This is the first year such action was taken, for formerly they were elected by the votes of each student. The matter of smoking required the students to be one block distant from the school if they wished to smoke.

No doubt the biggest thing done in the first term was the election of the yell-leader, Marjorie Bayless, who worked out a systematic way of leading yells and cheers for the fans.

This organization has certainly been an aid to the school because each student felt the responsibility of making the laws and realizes the necessity of obeying them which represents the future democracy of Huntington High School.

THE arousing of interest in the various activities in which Huntington High School engages has long presented a problem to those vitally interested in the school. During past years many means have been organized and many schemes perfected in order to secure the proper degree of enthusiasm and pep among the students. This year, the school has been very fortunate in having for this purpose the Booster Club, which has accomplished results that merit the appreciation of all. Gordon Cook sponsored the organization and helped in all its undertakings.

The charter members were composed of class officers and staffs of the publications. These persons were particularly adapted to carry out the object of the club because they were leaders with a certain following. The club was limited to forty members who, if absent three consecutive times, were expelled. Those applying for membership were to name a list of their activities, and if the majority voted in favor, the person became a member of the club. In the middle of the term the following were initiated: Mamie Lesh, John Satterthwaite, Virgilius Ufheil, and Marvin Coble.

Homecoming Day was the gala event sponsored by the club. Besides the tickets, the members had charge of the selling of the souvenir megaphones. Committees were chosen by the president to take charge of the decorating in the downtown district and the football field. The members freely participated in the Homecoming fete and the pep sessions held throughout the year. The yell leaders worked in harmony with the club in every event.

Sunshine Society

The most outstanding thing in the history of the Huntington Sunshine Society during the year was the winning of the trophy at the State Convention in Shelbyville in recognition as the best all-around chapter in the state.

The Scrap-book of the local society which was displayed at this annual meeting, April 27 and 28, was given first rating in the judging. These two honors were well merited awards that the girls gained by consistent work during the year.

About twenty-five girls attended the State Convention from Huntington. Geraldine Royer was chosen voting delegate, and Joy Reiff representative delegate. Alice Ditzler presided as State President.

Instead of having a variety of toys for distribution at Christmas time, the manual training department undertook the responsibility of making doll beds for little girls and toy carts for little boys, while the Sunshine girls brought dolls which were dressed by the Home Economics department. These presents numbered about one hundred, and were much appreciated by those who received them through the distribution at the hospital and through the Charity Guild.

An activity that aroused much enthusiasm was the staging of the "Penny Supper." Untiring efforts on the part of the girls in co-operation with the teachers made it full realization of ambition.

The sweetest memory was the Mothers Tea which was held in March. Mrs. Sandefur, the State Dean, gave an interesting talk to the mothers and daughters.

Perhaps one of the most beneficial acts of the Society was the bringing of Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen, "The Mother Goose Lady," for a series of talks in the fall. These proved helpful for all.

Hi-Y Club

THE Hi-Y Cluh is one of the oldest organizations in Huntington High School. Through these years it has become a permanent fixture of the moral and social life of the school. The slogan practiced by the boys is the "Four C's": Clean sports, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean habits.

A new form of membership was suggested this year and worked out very successfully. This provision allowed all boys who desired to join to send in their applications and the entrance voted in on by all the members. The membership is now limited to forty thus keeping the club from becoming too large or unwieldy.

Meetings were held every Thursday evening during which a business session and a program afterwards. During the meetings in the year business men as well as out-of-town speakers gave addresses which interested the boys very much.

A "Father and Son" banquet was held during the first semester while in the second term a "Mother and Son" banquet was given. In the first part of May a "best girl" banquet was held.

The club spent much of its time in preparation for the Older Boys' Conference which it sponsored. Group discussions proved very beneficial to the boys.

Invitations for the Older Boys' Conference held in Huntington Friday, 30, were sent out to sixty-one towns and cities in Indiana. Marion sent nine delegates, the largest delegation sent.

The finance for the convention was arranged by Joe Sowerwine with the cooperation of the merchants.

Among the principal speakers was Mr. B. A. Schnell, State Secretary of boys' work.

IN order to further the interest of Latin in High School a Latin Club was begun in the beginning of the second semester under the supervision of Miss Brown, instructor in that department.

The initials of "Senatus Populusque Romanus" was adopted for the name of the club. It was organized very much like the government of Rome long ago, having the same officers as that city. The duties of the officers are: Pontifex Maximus, who had charge of all special ceremonies; the Aediles, who conducted social programs; the Proctors, who published the Rostra; and the Consuls, who handled executive affairs.

The members of the Cicero class acted as senate. In order to become a member of the club a person had to have two years of the language and admitted by the consent of the senate. Following admission, initiation services were held. The new members were brought before the senate in chains as Haeduan and Helvetian slaves. Each one was compelled to pass under the yoke and then to answer questions which were asked in Latin. The Pontifex Maximus made the final decision in each case and gave it to the slaves. After the command was obeyed the students became members of the S. P. Q. R. club.

This was the first attempt to organize a Latin Club in High School and the sponsor of it deserves very much credit for the work she has done. Definite plans have been made whereby this club will be continued next year. As time goes on it will continue to grow and be a benefit to students interested in the Latin language.

ALTHOUGH many new clubs were organized this year the Cashier's Club was the only one formed with a business aspect. The purpose of the club was to enthuse the students more in banking. It was not their effort to get 100 per cent in banking but to induce them to save.

During the last few years the pupils found difficulty in paying their activities all at once. In the beginning of the term the "activity card" was suggested by Mr. Cross and which worked out very effectively. This was a very good plan for the student body because it was much easier to take care of these expenses since it was done in small amounts. Another advantage was the doing away of the necessity of special campaigns for subscriptions and tickets during the year. By depositing twenty cents every Tuesday the card was paid at the end of the last semester.

In order to help the cashiers of the various rooms Mr. Cross appointed the following officers: Oscar Kline, vice-president in charge of collections with Ruth Adams, Velma Parker, and Bernard Bir, as assistants; Reece Hoffman, vice-president in charge of advertising.

It is the duty of the officers to get all the money in at the appointed time. The work of the department cannot be over-estimated because of the amount of time which must be given to it.

Monitors

TO THE great desire of the faculty the monitors have made a successful year of 1928. The duty of the monitors is to keep the students moving in the halls in order to avoid crowding at the lockers and to keep the halls in a presentable shape at all times. Under their watchful eyes there is no running or boisterous talking in the corridors.

One new feature was demonstrated this year and worked out quite successfully. Instead of a hall-policeman the Student Council appointed a teacher as chairman to take charge of each corridor. In order that there would not be a vacancy two selected students were chosen by the teacher to aid in the placing of monitors. All the teachers united in reporting hall misdemeanors and bad conduct. With each year of the monitor system the corridor deportment of the students grows better. As a result of this there was less frequency in changing locker owners to a different floor.

Since the duty of monitor is tiresome the teachers agree to make mention of it on the pupil's character card because a student is to be commended on this responsibility.

The monitors have been a great aid in the school curriculum. Through them a fine sense of school spirit and patriotism has been created which makes it an established duty for next year.

The monitor system owes its success to the various faculty members who devoted their time untiringly for the betterment of school conduct.

"Kiwanis Builds Forever"

FOR the first time in the history of school activities an outside organization has given students an opportunity to achieve some distinction for their scholastic standards gained in their four years of high school standing. This emblem is to be a yearly award, by the Kiwanis Club of Huntington.

The number of students eligible for honors is limited to six per cent of the graduation class who have attained the highest standards during their high school career. Each years' members will automatically fall into the K. B. F. Society, which means "Kiwanis Builds Forever."

The society is on the same basis as the Honor Society and the Quill and Scroll Society in Journalism. To the high school it has the same significance as the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity to the college.

The one distinction this highly symbolized emblem has is that eligibility is open to everyone, and that Freshmen as well as Seniors can be honored with its ownership. However, the Freshmen have more hopeful chance as they have four years ahead of them, while the Senior is now graded on a non-preparatory period. This is a wonderful incentive for high scholastics in the future to all pupils of the school. There are no restrictions as to other school activities for the standing is based only on scholastic work.

The badge of membership is of gold designed as a watch charm and bearing significant markings. The general design is that of a shield which is mounted on top by a lamp of knowledge. Two bars approach from either side of the shield bearing the Latin phrase, "Discite Semper," which means "study always." In the left hand corner is a star representing five points in noble character: truth, charity, purity, courage, and self-control. In the right hand corner is a shield with thirteen stars and thirteen stripes representing patriotism. Between the Latin phrase and at the bottom of the shield is the Kiwanis International emblem, and under the Kiwanis emblem is a ribbon bearing the significant phrase, "Sponsors of Education."

These emblems are uniform except the one given to the graduate having the highest average will have a diamond in the star, and the graduate having the second highest will have a ruby in the star.

All of the grades are counted from the freshman year to the year of graduation. No notice is given to the forunate persons until the night of Commencement although there is a surmise concerning the winners.

Peace Contest

ON November 10, eight students participated in the Peace Declamation Contest, which was held in the auditorium before the student body. This is the first year that Huntington High School has entered this contest.

In this Tom Wasmuth won first place, receiving a bronze medal from the state organization backing the work, and a two dollar bill from the local Stanley W. C. T. U. Frederic Grayston took second place, winning a one dollar bill as a reward. Other contestants who participated were Miriam Dumbauld, Jane Wheeler, Dorothea Barnes, Martha Scudder, Dorothy Mauger, and Lucile Wienke.

Entitled to enter the County Contest, Tom took first place over representatives from Huntington Township, Lafontaine, Swayzee, Clear Creek, and SS. Peter and Paul's. Here he won a silver medal.

Entering the District Contest, he again took high honors when he took first place, winning the gold medal.

On February 10, he represented Huntington High School, Huntington County, and this District when he entered the State Contest at Indianapolis. Although he was the only Freshman present, he was ranked among the first five.

The success of Huntington High's undertaking in the Peace Contest was due in a large part to Miss Rupert who coached all the participants in the local division. She also aided Tom Wasmuth when he entered the County, District, and State meets.

However, this is not the only oratorical work she has assisted in since she has coached the Constitution Contest and helped in the Senior Play as well.

Constitution Contest

UNDER the sponsorship of the Huntington County Bar Association, a Constitution Contest was again held this year. Prizes of money were given the winners.

The contest was divided into an oratorical and an essay division. Only one was chosen to represent the school in the oratorical work while six essays were chosen and judged with those from other schools in the county.

Those who entered in the oratorical division were: Nadine Hoffman, Lucile Wienke, Jane Wheeler, and Miriam Dumbauld. Lillian Raver, Myrtle Louise Earhart, Ruby Iry, Pauline Beverly, Thea Neuman, Betty King, and Mary Gardner were entered in the essay division. To inspire the contestants prizes were offered by the Parent-Teachers Association. The first winner received five dollars, second three dollars, and third two dollars.

On March 17 the oratorical elimination contest took place before the student body. Lucile Wienke won the honor of representing Huntington High in the county, while Betty King placed first in the essay division.

In the county meet our oratorical representative was placed second, being defeated by Richard Bixby, of Andrews, who later placed second in the state.

Each essay and oration had to be original and all based on the same subject, the Constitution. History and English teachers assisted the pupils in choosing the material. Miss Rupert supervised the local contest.

Debate

HAVING lost the successful team of last year by graduation, the debating season of 1927 was begun with an entirely new team composed of all girls.

According to the schedule of the Northeastern Indiana Debating League, our representatives engaged in four debates. Lady luck was on the side of the negative team when they competed with South Side of Fort Wayne and won. Their second encounter was with Columbia City which resulted in a tie. The affirmative four received a blow of disappointment when they lost by a very small margin to Andrews, this year's champions of the league.

The subject used for debate this season in the debating league, of which Huntington is a member, was "Resolved: That the western powers in their relations with the Chinese in China should be bound by the same rights and duties as in their relations with each other."

Because the critic judge was so popular last year with the debating teams, it was used with success this year. A. W. Cordier, of Manchester College, was judge of the Andrews and Columbia City teams with our debaters. Miss Orel Little judged our encounter with South Side of Fort Wayne, while Professor Fred Conkling distinguished the winner of Central of Fort Wayne and Huntington.

The members of the negative team were: Gertrude Peting, Mamie Lesh, Jeanne Felton, and AnnaBelle Utter, alternate. The personnel of the affirmative team was: Dorothy Craft, Betty King, Martha Scudder, and Evelyn Kramien, alternate. Mr. Day was the coach for the Red and Black representatives. With the exception of two Juniors, the rest will be graduated with the Class of 1928.

Latin Contest

THIS year is the fourth year that the Latin students partook in the State Latin Contest. Miss Beatrice Brown, instructor in the language, had the position as County Chairman although this is the first year as the faculty member of this school. Awards for the district and state contest are gold, silver, and bronze medals.

The month of local elimination was held during the first of February at which time the students competed to win the right to represent Huntington High School. Those who won in this were: Helen Jane Cook, Lillian Raver, Shirley Hawes, Helen Weber, Geraldine Coble, Olive Lesh, Joy Reiff, and Hilda Beaver. The winners of the county contest were Joy Reiff and Hilda Beaver placing first and second in Cicero division; Geraldine Coble first in the Caesar division; and Helen Weber and Shirley Hawes placing first and second in the 1-A division.

With the winners of the other divisions this group journeyed to Wabash for the district contest. At this time Miss Brown led the discussion group on "The Contract Method" which she introduced in Huntington High School.

In order that there would be no deception of the partaking students the test papers were given to the other critics for grading.

The Latin contestants were presented with letters as a recognition of their work. The purpose of the contest is to create a desire to do better work in Latin and make Latin work over the state more uniform. This year the department in this work attained the highest record ever made. Shirley Hawes placed second in the 1-A division of the District Contest. As a reward she received a medal. Geraldine Coble and Joy Reiff placed fourth in their respective groups.

Commercial Awards

STUDENTS in the commercial department are granted awards each year according to their achievement in the work. The recognitions given in typewriting are as follows: certificate of proficiency, thirty words a minute; bronze medal, forty words; silver medal, fifty words; and gold medal, sixty words.

One gold emblem was awarded during the year to Cecile Nichols. Silver medals were won by Catherine Wilhelm, Mary Schenkel, and Ruth Buzzard. The following received bronze emblems: Mildred Peting, Anita King, Norma Penland, Geraldine Sheets, Edna Keehn, Marian Lind, Dorothea Brahs, and Lena Johnson.

The following list of pupils won certificates of proficiency: Audrey O'dier, Garnet Stonebraker, Bernard Bir, Ruth Adams, Howard Fults, Isabel Oswalt, Josephine Buse, Ilomae Enyeart, Bertha Griffith, Susan Kase, Alberta Newell, AnnaBelle Utter, Dorothy Mauger, Geraldine Brewer, Dorothy Septer, Lillian Raver, Frederic Grayston, Lydia Winkleman, Marjorie Morgan, Wanda Gressley, Helen Miles, Catherine Lengel, Evelyn Kramien, Maybelle Lewis, Winifred Stroud, and Pauline Williams.

Pupils in the shorthand classes are awarded certificates of membership in the "Order of Gregg Artists" if specimens of their best shorthand work qualify according to the standards. Ruth Adams won a bronze pin for the best club specimen, while honorable mention pins were awarded to Edna Keehn, Susan Kase, Catherine Wilhelm, and Anita King. Other pupils qualifying for membership were: Geraldine Brewer, Louise Broyles, Zelda Fullhart, Louise Hartman, Helen Biehl, Marjorie Blackburn, Audrey Buzzard, Myrtle Louise Earhart, Bertha Griffith, Dorothea Brahs, and Ruth Buzzard.

Senior Class Play

THIS year the Senior Class chose "The Thirteenth Chair," a mystery play, for the annual Senior production. The play was presented successfully three times: on the afternoon Tuesday, February 7, for the grade school children, and on the nights of Wednesday and Thursday, February 8 and 9 respectively.

Although the scenes were the same throughout the play, all who witnessed the play declared it to be the most thrilling and weird production ever given by the students of Huntington High School. This type of play was extremely hard to produce because of the many details, which, if improperly acted, would have resulted in absolute failure.

Except for three visits made by Mr. J. A. Beriault of the Indianapolis School of Expression, the play was coached entirely by Miss Taylor and Miss Rupert, who were aided by the Advisory Board. This committee consisted of Margaret Scudder, chairman; Lena Johnson, Marjorie Bayless, Robert Burgwald, and Lyman Kitt. The weird stage lighting was effected by Mr. Michael.

For the first time in the staging of the plays, programs were put out in book form. The advertisements, the cast, the synopsis of the play, and the committees were found among its pages. Advertisements were gathered by Dorothy Craft.

Because the trophy was awarded two years in succession it was decided to give a prize to the senior selling the most tickets. This worked up enthusiasm and interest in the entire class. Glenna Griffith was the winner of the first prize, five dollars.

On April 13, a dinner was given at the Elks' Club at 6:00 o'clock in honor of the cast, after which they went to Lagro "to see themselves as others saw them." "The Thirteenth Chair" was chosen as the Lagro annual Senior production also.

Sunshine Play

ON the morning of December 23, the Religious Committee of the Sunshine Society sponsored the playlet, "Why the Chimes Rang." The play was coached by Miss Thrailkill and Miss Cage. The beautiful lighting and scenery was effected by Mr. Michael.

The play centered in three acts. The first was a forest scene where an elderly peasant was eagerly seeking his way to the great cathedral to hear the great chimes. They would ring if a perfect gift were laid upon the altar. The children learn his story and all proceed on their way to the church.

The second act is set in a humble cottage where the little brothers plan their longed-for trip to the great church to hear the bells on Christmas eve. They possess no gift except a beautiful lily, grown by their own hands. As they are ready to leave a stranger comes in the hut. The older lad offered to stay with the stranger and sent his brother on. There, after the nobles offer their rich presents, the little boy places his offering on the altar. The Chimes peal forth in the still air after a lapse of many years.

The parts chosen were enacted with a wonderful spirit, the entire cast displaying true ability. This play, the major contribution of the club to the program of the school year, was an artistic work in all details of lighting, color, and stage technicalities. The society may well be proud of this playlet, so indicative of the Sunshine spirit.

The message of the play was in keeping with the Christmas season, and was acknowledged by all to be impressive in its presentation.

Though the society has given such programs only the last three years, it has established a reputation for originality.

Advanced Band

WITH the start that had been made in band work during the school year of 1926-1927, an advanced class was organized in the fall of 1927. Under the supervision of Delmar Weesner, this group developed into a creditable organization during the year.

This advanced class formed the major part of the band that was entered in the District Band Contest at Marion, April 28. Because the work had been in the school less than two years, Huntington was entered in Class B. There were five other schools competing in this division.

A concert was presented by the beginning and advanced band classes in conjunction with the Marion High School Band on Friday, April 20. The program demonstrated in a complimentary fashion the progress made during the short time the department has been in the school.

The Parent-Teacher Association has undertaken the task of purchasing uniforms for the band, and it will probably be so equipped next year.

Beginning Band

DEVELOPMENT of material through the beginning band classes under Delmar Weesner assures Huntington High School a permanent band department that will soon result in a musical organization of unusually high order.

Instruments are supplied for use of the students by the school, though pupils usually buy their own instruments after learning to play, except in the case of the rarer and larger ones.

Several classes of novices were organized during the year, and the membership is large enough to make possible progressive promotion into the advanced group. Many of the pupils taking the instruction were in the Junior High Schools, and several from the grades. The years that they will have in school will assure the development of capable players.

The beginning classes presented a part of the program that was given on Friday, April 20, with the assistance of the Marion High School Band. Practically all those playing had never studied a band instrument before the beginning of this school year. The evidence of the progress made during one year was gratifying.

The members of the beginning classes who appeared on the program were as follows: Piccolos: Keith Shock, George Cussen, Helen Jackson; Clarinets: Helen Cook, Hugh Hartman, Helen Brewer, Lucile Obenour, Fred Whitted, Jack Bischoff, Helen Harvey, Ruth Wike, Beatrice Shaddle, Willis Hosler, Edith Stephens, Russell Hubartt, Robert Young, Audrey Wilson; Saxophones: Kenneth Roudebush, Toby Tyler; Cornets: Donald Fouse, Dea Michael, Ray Lauer, Tom Wasmuth, Jane Foote, Donald Freehafer, Delbert Hoon, Muriel Mahoney, Pearl MacFarlane, Donald Anderson; Horns: Elizabeth Snyder, Louis Nie; Trombones: Melvin Swain, Melvin Livengood, Ralph Buckner; Baritones: Harold Smith, Harold Casper; Basses: Carl Smith, Kenneth Blackburn, Max Smith; Drums: Donald Aker, Nola Yarger, Harold Landfert.

Orchestra

BECAUSE of the development of wind instrument players in the Band department, the High School Orchestra had a better instrumentation than it has had in several years. Though still lacking the rarer string instruments, it was fairly complete in the other sections.

Thirty-five players were selected by Mr. Day in try-outs at the beginning of the second semester to work for the special services the orchestra gives each year in the school activities. The first of these was the furnishing of music for the senior play.

For the first time in three years, a concert was given, this time in conjunction with the Girls Glee Club. A representative audience received the program which was presented Friday, April 13. In addition to this work, the orchestra furnished the music as in other years for the Commencement exercises.

A group of sixteen was picked from the full orchestra for special work such as playing at banquets. This group played before the Kiwanis Club, for the Sunshine penny supper, at a Parent-Teachers meeting, and for several Y. M. C. A. banquets.

The membership of the orchestra was as follows: Violins: Helen Maranda, Harold Bailey, Clifford White, Milford Toopes, John Spahr, Lois Swihart, Fred Dick, Audrey Hochstetler, Betty Young, Marguerite Buzzard, Wilda Mae Lucas, Esther Repp, Lois Forster, and Dorothy Kenner; Cello: Margaret Tavinier; Flute: Paul Cozad; Clarinets: Ruby Iry, Donald Snider, Wanda Hubartt, and Jack Bischoff; Saxophones: William Calvert and James Favorite; Cornets: Waldo Hubartt, Helen Schell, and Phyllis Sale; Horns: Lowell Buzzard and Heiney Wagner; Trombones: Erlean Roudebush and Marjorie Rodenbaugh; Tubas: Gaius Wike and William Scheerer; Drums: Kenneth James and Homer Bailey; Piano: Gwendolyn Mahoney.

Girls Glee Club

MARGARET SCUDDER - - - - - - - President
RUTH ADAMS - - - - - - - - Vice-President
VELMA PARKER - - - - - - Secretary-Treasurer

TO make possible more advanced work for the girls training in music, a new organization was formed this year under the direction of Mrs. Branyan, Supervisor of Music. The first meeting was held Friday, November 11, 1927, in the Club Rooms at which time an election of officers was held and committees were formed.

The club was limited to forty members and was made up into quartets. These various quartets appeared on many occasions during the year, singing at the Kiwanis, Rotary, and Exchange Clubs, the Business Professional Women's Banquet, the Sunshine Mothers' Tea, Sunshine Christmas Program, Carol singing, and at the Glee Club Concert.

Those making up the first soprano were: Ruth Adams, Martha Beaver, Ruth Beaver, Myrtle Louise Earhart, Velma Parker, Maxine Chalfant, Lillian Raver, Hazel Claire Robertson, Mona Mae Christy, Margaret Rinebolt and Miriam Smith.

The Second Sopranos consisted of Georganna Lowman, Laura Kenner, Helen Biehl, Dorothy M. Smith, Mae Shideler, Emily Young, Olive Lesh, Ossa Hamilton, Edna Hendry, Miriam Dumbauld, and Mamie Lesh.

The First Altos were: Arzetta Brickley, Ruth Robbins, Margaret Scudder, Geraldine Zahn, Elizabeth Lengel, and Delene Lobdell.

The Second Altos were: Jane Wheeler, Audrey Hochstetler, Wanda Hubartt, Agnes Adams, Alberta Sands, Dorothy Septer, Leetia Stewart, Wilda Mae Lucas, and Lois Forster. The accompanist on all occasions was Gwendolyn Mahoney.

Back row: Jacobs, Taylor, Harvey, Hippensteel, Meekin, Bonebrake, Laurie, Telfer, Swihart, Shipley, Harger
Third row: Ewing, Rinebolt, Casper, Hoag, James, Haneline, Weaver, D. Brown, Telfer, Feighner
Second row: Hawkins, Redrup, Knight, Williams, Ferguson, Wienke, Gardner, Brewer, Tallman, Young, Steiber

Girls Chorus

MORE than one hundred girls were enrolled in the chorus classes this year. Development rather than achievement was the main aim of Mrs. Branyan in the work. Much of the special work, such as singing for programs, was undertaken by the Glee Club.

The plan introduced last year was again used in the class work. Each girl prepared a song of her own selection which was sung before the chorus classes. This did not have to be a solo, but could be a duet, trio, quartet, or even a larger group.

This method gave the pupils a chance to hear one another, and since the class graded each one as she presented her selection, it proved good training.

During the last part of the second semester work was begun on the music for the Baccalaureate Service. Some of the selections were chosen because of requests, and others because of their relation to the Commencement season.

Four numbers were given by the chorus on the evening of May 20 during the Baccalaureate exercises. One selection was given by the girls, one by the boys, and two by the mixed voices. The numbers were as follows: "The House by the Side of the Road," Gulesian; "My Creed," Garnet; "The Recessional," DeKoven; and "Fulness of Earth," Moore.

Lucas, Dolby
Fourth row: D. Smith, Gooley, O'dier, Stewart, Peting, M. Peting, Coolman, Petrucelle, Guhl, Schenkel
Third row: Zahn, Forster, Martin, Teusch, Lobdell, Lesh, Robbins, Blockson, Kenner, Mehrling, Henry, Laurie
Second row: Holabird, Badger, Holsworth, Sheets, Farrar, Streseman, I. Smith, Gardner, Lahr, Scudder
Kramien, Barnes

Girls Chorus

THE members of the girls chorus were divided into three sections according to their voices. Much of the work taken up in class was of three part arrangement, though some pieces included the four parts.

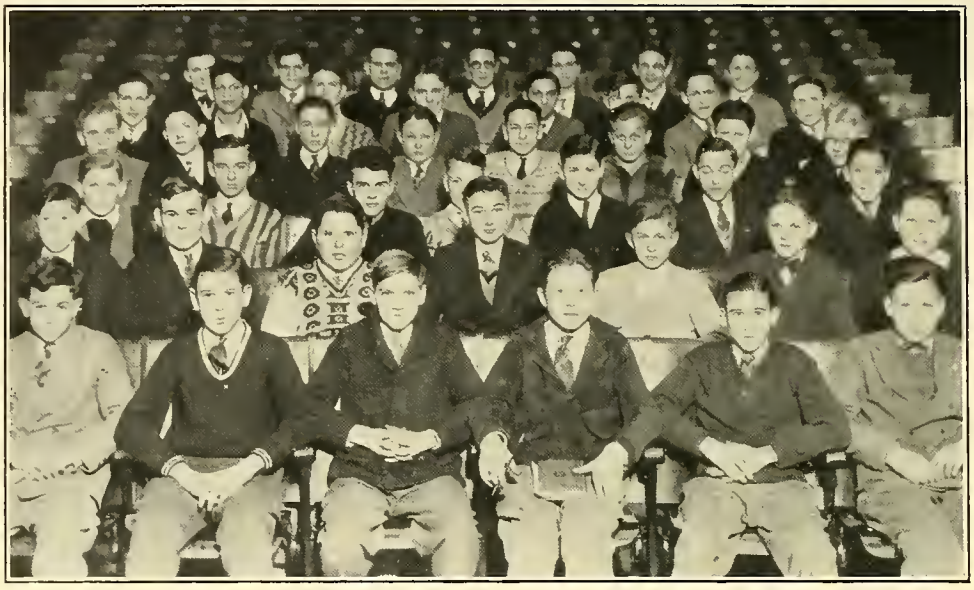
Seventy girls were chosen for the chorus which sang at the Baccalaureate service. The enrollment of all the classes was too large to be used, so a chorus totalling one hundred was picked from the boys and girls chorus.

The enrollment in the girls' classes was as follows:

First soprano: R. Adams, Bailey, Bonebrake, Brewer, Brown, Buzzard, Casper, Christy, Coolman, Davis, Dolby, Ewing, Farrar, Feightner, Gardener, Haneline, Harger, Harvey, Hawkins, Henry, Hoag, Hurd, James, Kenner, Knight, Laurie, Lippincott, Lyman, Meekin, Mossman, Pohler, Rankin, Redding, Redrup, Rineholt, Robertson, Ruble, Shipley, Sparks, Steiber, Swihart, Tallman, Taylor, Telfer, Vale, Walburn, Weaver, Wienke, Williams, and Young.

Second soprano: Allison, Badger, Barnes, Beeson, Beverly, Blockson, Dumbauld, Gooley, Guhl, Hamilton, Hendry, Hippensteel, Kern, Kramien, Lahr, Laurie, Lengel, Lesh, Lobdell, Lutz, Mehrling, Meier, B. Peting, M. Peting, Petrucelle, Richards, Schenkel, Shideler, M. Smith, W. Smith, Stressman, C. Telfer, Whitmore, and Young.

First alto: A. Adams, DeWitt, Evans, Ferguson, Folk, Forster, Hardener, Henry, M. L. Henry, Herendeen, Hochstetler, Holabird, Holsworth, Jacobs, Lucas, Martin, Musselman, McNabb, O'dier, Richardson, Robbins, Scudder, Sheets, D. E. Smith, D. I. Smith, Sprowl, Stewart, Teusch, Wheeler, Wiley, Windsor, and Zahn.



Last row: Mickley, Sowerwine, Chesterman, Ahlschwede, Petrucelle, Blackburn, Shock
Fifth row: Nichols, Jung, Sale, Potts, Cussen, Branyan, Hiatt, Bauman
Fourth row: Grass, Steele, Shutt, Swaim, Beaver, Reifert, E. McIntire, Lichtsin
Third row: Solloway, Hochstetler, Myers, Miller, H. McIntire, Cussen, Royer
Second row: Van Zant, Williams, Shoemaker, Nie, McClure, Patten, Meese
Front row: Kitt, Orr, Piepenbrink, Lee, Bonam, Streeter

Boys Chorus

IT has always been the case that more girls are enrolled in chorus than boys. This is partly due to the new band classes and because of the demand upon the boys for athletics. Every means was taken by Mrs. Branyan to interest the boys in singing and she succeeded very well. Fifty boys enrolled in the work.

During the first semester the classes were organized for the fifth and sith periods During the second semester the classes were organized for the fifth and sixth periods in order to make the group larger for practice.

Several of the boys took part in the chorus that aided in the success of the Sunshine Christmas playlet, "Why the Chimes Rang."

Baccalaureate music was stressed during the second semester work. Thirty boys were selected for this special chorus which included seventy girls.

Since the Girls Glee Club was such a success as a new organization in the school, it was planned to start a similar club for the boys; but this was not acted upon because there was no time suitahle for practice.

The members of the chorus were divided into the following groups:

First tenor: Bonam, Hochstetler, Kitt, Lee, Meese, Orr, Piepenbrink, Royer, Shoemaker, Solloway, Streater, Swaim, E. Williams, and Van Zant.

Second tenor: Ahlschwede, H. Blackburn, Cussen, Hiatt, McIntire, Miller, McClure, Patten, Reifert, Shutt, Shock, and Whitted.

First bass: Branyan, Beaver, Cussen, Enyeart, Lauer, LaVine, H. McIntire, Nie, Petrucelle, Potts, and Sale.

Second hass: Bauman, Chesterman, Grass, Hubley, Jung, Mickley, Myers, Nichols, Pohler, Sowerwine, and Steele.

Book IV--Athletics

Football

Paul Kriegbaum, Coach

IN completing his second year as the athletic coach of his home town high school, Paul has earned for himself the title of "the most popular coach Huntington has ever had." He received this unsought honor largely because he was always an upright leader who stressed clean sportsmanship to his teams and to the fans.

From only five regulars for his first year's team to a winning combination and a wealth of reserve material in his team of the second year is quite a feat for any man; but the Viking coach did it, as the fine football team that was turned out this year testifies.

As a basketball player and coach, Kriegie was a humdinger. He was a star player on the basketball team of '18, the only H. H. S. team that ever went to the semi-finals in a state tournament. On his graduation he turned to Purdue where he became an all-conference center all due with honors. And so Kriegie went through several training schools and finally back to his old high school to regain for it the prestige it had when he left.

Gordon Cook, Assistant Coach

ALTHOUGH this was his first year as coach of the Reserves, Gordon Cook brought his team through an extra hard season with a record of eleven games won and nine lost. As players were constantly being shifted from the second squad to the first and vice versa, it was doubly hard for Gordon to maintain a smooth running machine. Despite this handicap, the Scyldings in practice were constantly forcing the Vikings to fight hard to keep possession of the ship, while other teams seldom had a chance against their fierce onslaught.

Not only as a basketball coach but also as a football and tennis mentor did Gordon make his unceasing efforts stand out. For football Cook built up a reserve team of Freshmen and Sophomores for next year's team, while in tennis he worked his men hard and as a result the tennis sharks gained state wide fame for all concerned.

Omer Shideler, Student Manager

WORKING hand in hand with our coaches this year was Omer Shideler, the Student Manager. "Doc" soon had a reputation for trustworthiness and not once during the year did he fail in his duty. This is an especially fine record since the position requires among other things that he attend every practice; be there quite early to doctor the players, and the hardest task of all—to keep the team in good humor so that the morale will not suffer an unfortunate relapse.

Omer has had a rather hectic high school sports career. During the 25-26 basketball season he was Student Manager and gained valuable experience along that line. Then last year he promised to be one of our outstanding stars in football, but due to an unfortunate injury he was compelled to quit school and thus lost his chance to play basketball and baseball as well as football.

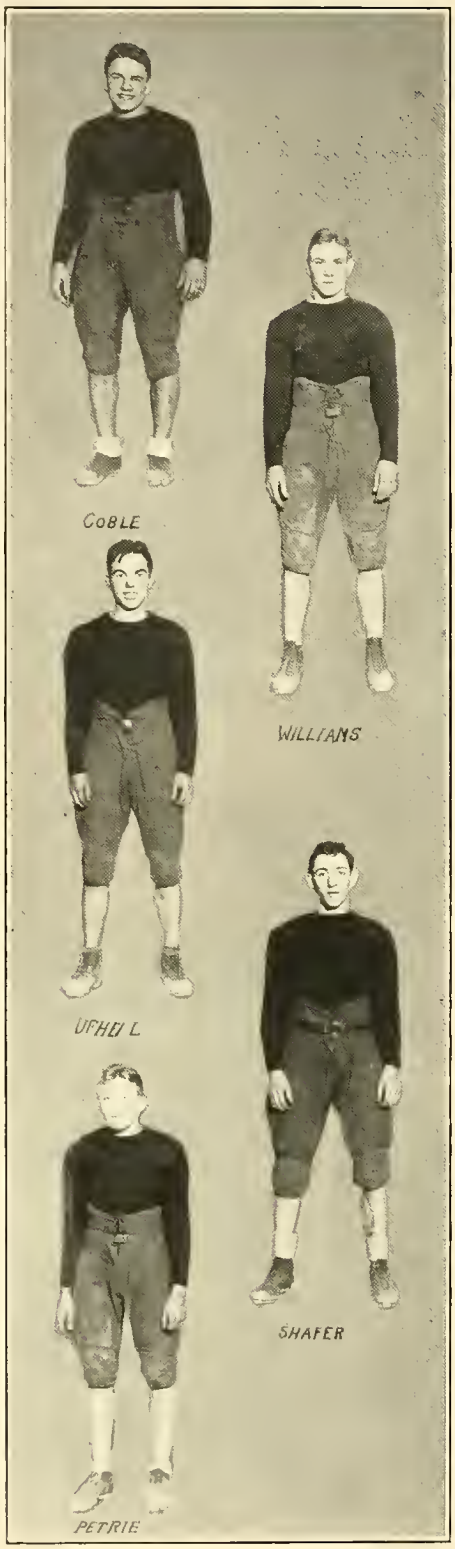
This year he came back to school and was immediately appointed to his position as Student Manager.

Marjorie Bayless, Yell Leader

"THE Viking yell!" "The Viking yell!" a stentorian voice issues the call from a huge red megaphone. The fans bark their reply as they give the short and snappy yell in unison with Marjorie's swift and easy movements.

Marjorie was elected yell leader by the Student Council. Now a yell leader must overcome many obstacles, but this fact did not deter Marjorie, so she sailed right into her job and soon all was going smoothly. The yelling section was not organized this year, but the Booster Club was bribed, bullied, and talked into "yellin their darndest" for the best school of all the nation.

As Marjorie is a member of the Class of '28, she will not be among those present next year, and it is sure that her friendly smile and hearty laugh will be missed by all.



H. H. S. 7—WABASH 6

September 17—Here

The first time in 21 years, but it was worth waiting for to see the Vikings beat the Wabash Hillclimbers, even by one point. Our touchdown came in the second quarter when Captain Coble recovered a fumble and ran 64 yards for a touchdown. Petrie booted the ball perfectly for the extra and winning point.

Wabash took the ball down the field for a touchdown in the second half, but failed to make the extra counter. Soon after this Coble, Ufheil, and Arnold were forced from the game by injuries, but the determined Norse fought on. In the last quarter Wabash took the ball over the line again; but a linesman was off-side, and it did not count. The Vikings held the Hillclimbers for downs, and retained the ball for the last few minutes until the game ended.

H. H. S. 0—LOGANSPORT 0

September 23—Here

Although the Red Devils held the advantage in weight, the Vikings held their more stocky opponents on little better than even terms throughout the greater part of the game.

Huntington carried the ball down the field several times to threaten the enemy's goal but could not put the ball across the line.

Fumbles were frequent throughout the game, but only one threatened to do any damage: the Loganberry fullback fumbled and Welch recovered the ball on the Logansport 5-yard line. Our golden chance came to naught, however, because the Red Devils' line held firm; so the ball was soon in play back in the center of the field. Coble, Blackburn, Ade, Williams, and Petrie starred as this hectic battle went down in history.

H. H. S. 26—BLUFFTON 6

September 30—There

Easily solving the enemy's plays, the Norsemen swept on in their race for championship honors by defeating the Bluffton Tigers 26 to 6 on their home field.

Though the Tigers put up a stiff battle, they could not stop the Vikings, once they started with their ground gaining aerial attacks, line plunges, and end runs. Only once were they halted in their march downfield, when Bluffton's little left end intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards without interference for their only touchdown.

In the second half Coach Kriegbaum sent in his substitutes, and they held the opposing team on even terms for the rest of the game. The team was functioning perfectly, and no one was outstanding in the play.

H. H. S. 0—KENDALLVILLE 18

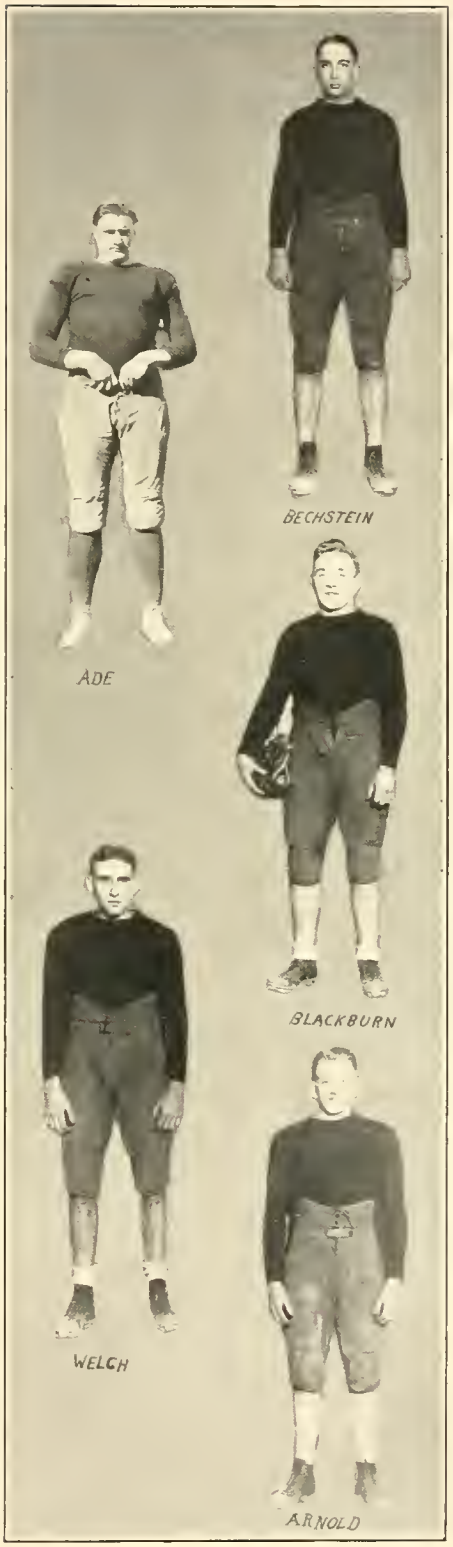
October 8—There

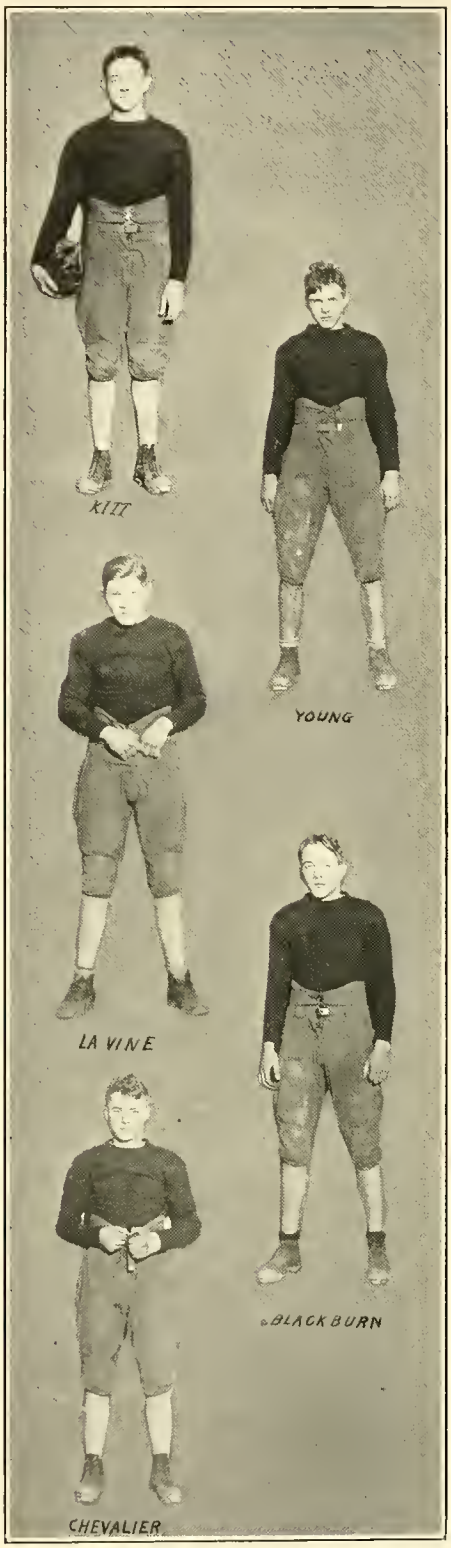
Kendallville surely had a fine time at our expense while we were their guests. The Vikings did their best, and they held a decided advantage until a Kendallville substitute halfback ran 82 yards through the Norse defense for a touchdown. After this it was all Kendallville.

Every man on the team fought hard but the plays just naturally wouldn't come off right, and the resulting ragged play disheartened the team miserably.

Despite the fact that the Vikings had an off day and that Kendallville was better, they only succeeded in making three touchdowns, and the Viking substitutes played nearly all the first half, so H. H. S. didn't do so badly after all.

The next game with Kendallville was a great disappointment to the fans because the game was figured as an easy win. This conference contest also considerably lowered our standing in the league.





H. H. S. 0—KOKOMO 25

October 15—There

Kokomo's football team lived up to its reputation altogether too well to suit the crowd of H. H. S. fans who journeyed to Kokomo to see the contest. However, the Vikings had the Koko Kats worried in the first half since the Norse line frequently broke through the Wildcat defense and tackled the ball carrier before their herculean efforts in the first half. They were soon after further handicapped by the loss of Bechstein, star end, from injuries. After this the Wildcats proceeded to go down the field in short order for two touchdowns with their famous "split second" backfield working like sixty. The substitutes were run in by Kriegbaum, and though they fought hard, Kokomo ran their score up to 25 before the game ended.

H. H. S. 0—PERU 0

October 19—Here

The Vikings almost beat Old Man Jinx in this game by several times coming within a few yards of crossing Peru's line. The Jinx in late years had permitted a weak Peru eleven to lick a strong Huntington eleven by a large score, so with this year's result we should lick Peru right royally next year.

"Jilly" Ufheil was shifted from quarterback to the fullback position and he played the best game of his career. In fact his wide end runs were the only thing that redeemed this game for the Viking followers.

Five times the Sea Rovers had the ball within scoring distance; but twice a pass over the goal line was incomplete, once a place kick by Petrie missed the goal by a few inches, and then twice the Tigers held the Norse for downs for the fifth failure. This ended the Vikings mid-season slump, and that's that with Old Man Jinx's compliments.

H. H. S. 6—WARSAW 6

October 29—There

Receiving a 20-yard pass from Ufheil, Williams sprinted 40 yards to the Warsaw 4-yard line to cause the hopes of Huntington fans to soar sky-high.

The ball was taken to the 1-yard line on a terrific line buck, and then a Viking back dived over the line for the touchdown.

Warsaw made their touchdown in the first quarter when they recovered a fumble, but they failed to make the extra point.

In the third quarter the ball was carried to the Warsaw 15-yard line, but a pass slipped through a Viking end's hands just as the quarter ended. This misplay caused the hopes of the Viking rooters to go down to zero, but in the fourth quarter, like magic, the Norse's never-say-die spirit turned the tide, and a touchdown was scored. Amid intense excitement, Petrie missed the kick, and another tie, only not a scoreless tie as in the last three years, was written down for the fifth game between the two Red and Black teams.

H. H. S. 6—COLUMBIA CITY 0

November 4—Here

To celebrate our Homecoming, the Vikings played the best all-around game ever seen on Gunther Field, and defeated the hitherto undefeated and invincible Columbia City team 6 to 0.

Though halted on the 5-yard line in the first half, the team came back strong for the rest of the game. Petrie intercepted a pass, Arnold gained on a trick line play, a smash through center by Williams, and a crushing line plunge by Ade, 200 pound tackle, placed the ball over the line for the winning touchdown.

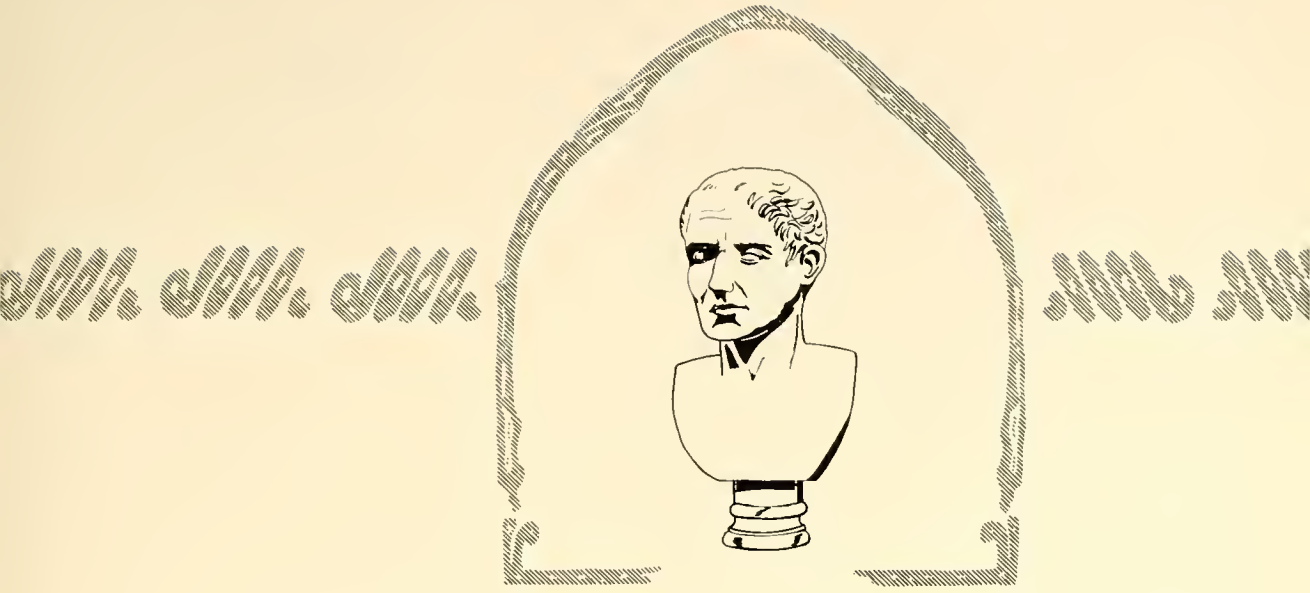
The Season

With five regulars and three experienced substitutes left from last year, Coach Kriegbaum started to weld a team that would uphold the fame of H. H. S. in football circles. A week at Camp Crosby under the tutelage of Knute Rockne and other famous college coaches gave the squad that valuable experience that was necessary for the team to go through their successful schedule. The veterans were Marvin Coble who was reelected captain, Fat Blackburn, Deed Young, Jilly Ufheil, Joe Heaston, Matt Williams, Bob Petrie, and Russ Ade. Omer Shideler returned to school this year and, since he was ineligible to participate in athletics, was appointed Student Manager.

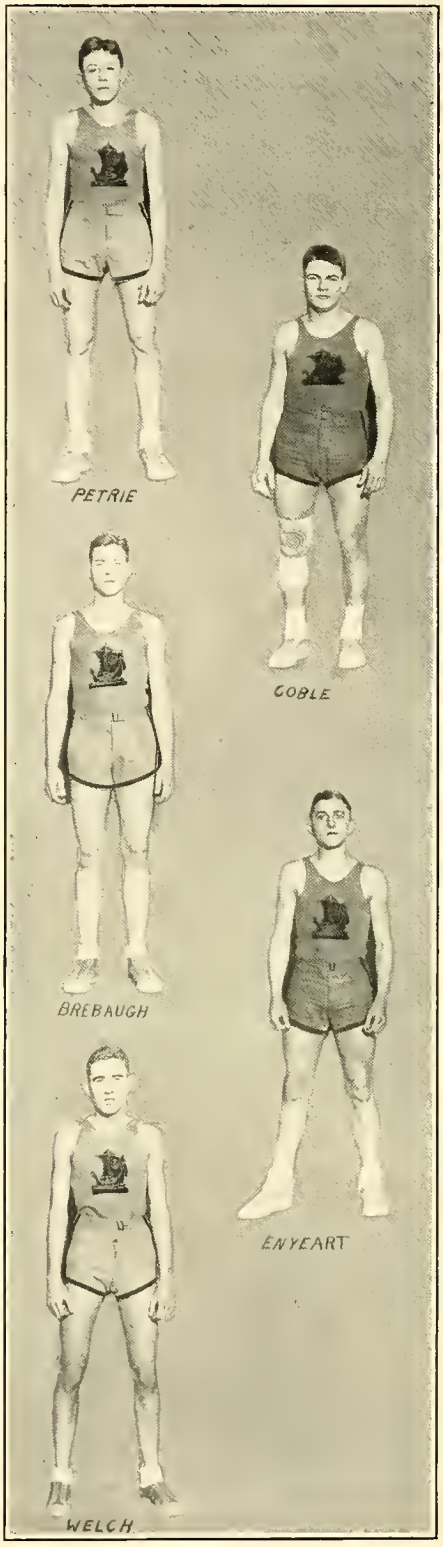
This year our arch-rival, Wabash, didn't have the advantage of more practice than the Vikings, and as a result by brilliant defensive work, we captured their ship by a one point margin. The Norse, being a bit over-confident, permitted Logansport to hold them to a 0 to 0 tie in the next game. Being weakened by the loss of several regulars, Bluffton was defeated there by a 26 to 6 score.

The Alumni walked the plank to the tune of a 6 to 0 score. The old stars played real football, but they couldn't quite hold the battering Norse.

Huntington had an off day on the foreign field, and Kendallville benefited to the tune of 18 to 0. The score of Kokomo 25 and Huntington 0 tells little of the fierce playing of the Vikings, for it was a hard fought contest. A weak team barely holding a strong team—this is the story of the scoreless Peru game. The Warsaw 6 to 6 tie was a great game with brilliant playing featured by both teams. This year's homecoming game with Columbia City was one of the best games ever seen on Gunther field. The score of 6 to 0 shows the correct ranking of the two teams.



Basketball



Vikings

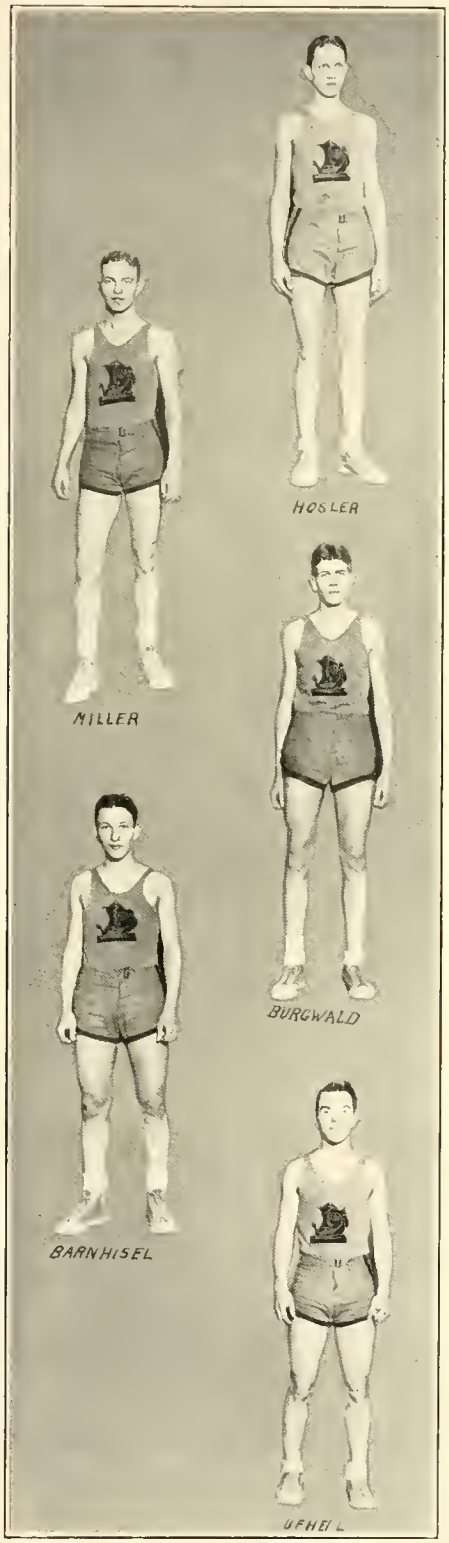
With only one week of practice after the end of the football season, the fighting Vikings tackled their foremost enemy, Clear Creek, and almost crocked them; but with two regulars out on personals, a barrage of baskets in the last half by their forward sank the ship. Coming back strong, the Norse captured the Warren galley in an easy contest. Expecting an easy game, Muncie found a Tartar and barely got a 10 point margin of victory. Keeping up the fast Muncie game pace the Norse five took on Rochester, their rivals of old, and played a game unique in several respects—nearly all field goals were made from the center of the floor, and only a few personals were called. They won by making three long shots from center in the last three minutes.

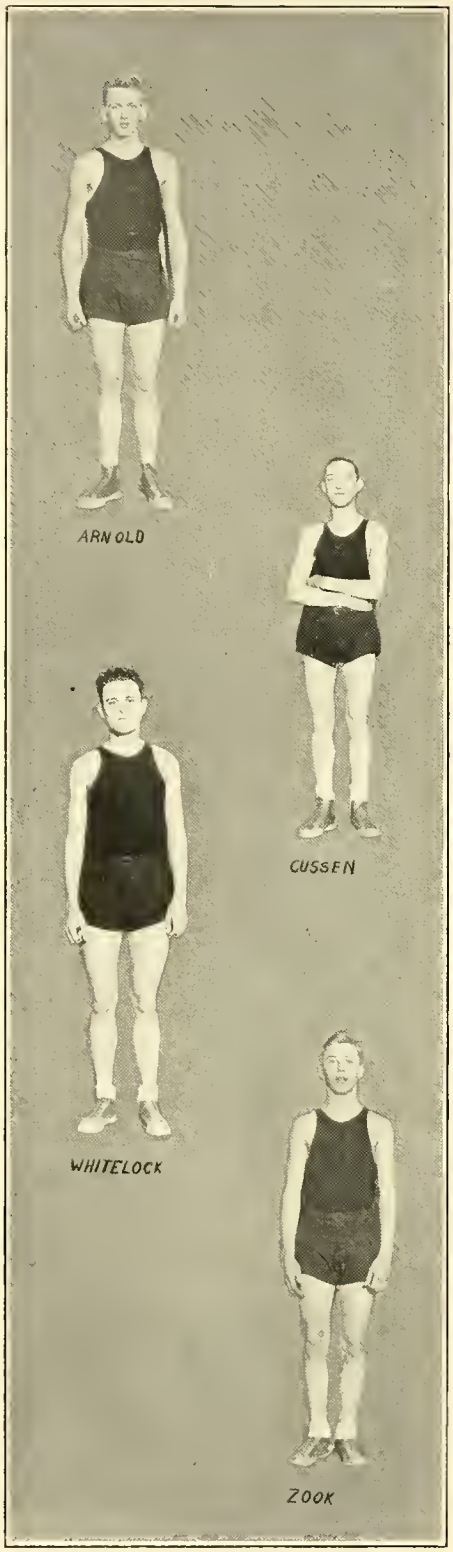
Here the Sea Rovers hit a bad streak, and, on successive nights lost two "nightmare" games to the Peru Tigers and the Central of Fort Wayne Tigers by big scores. After the above disasters the Norse staged a brilliant comeback to championship form and won three straight games during the holiday season. Monticello was conquered in a fast game because of an air-tight defense that frustrated the touted offense of the downstaters. The Black and Gold of Warsaw was the next sacrifice to the Lime City lads. A foreign invader was the next victim. Pittsburgh Tech of Pennsylvania had a fine no defeat record and eastern experts were picking them to cop the National Championship, but they wanted to see the noted Indiana brand of basketball. To make a sweet story short, the Vikings played in real Hoosier style and smothered them 35 to 13.

Vikings

The Elwood Tinplaters caught the Sea Rovers on an off day and abruptly stopped their winning streak. In the game with Spiceland, the boys set a remarkable record by making 47 per cent of their shots, which is a high mark for H. H. S. teams. Then the Vikings hit a mid-season slump, and the rest of the season was in off and on style. The first off was the loss of a freak game with Decatur. The referee and umpire played a piccolo duet on their whistles with the result that Huntington ended the game with three men playing. The first five were withheld from the Andrews fracas until two and one-half minutes of play remained; then they were rushed in, but could not overcome the Red Devils' lead. With the regulars hitting the baskets from all sides, the Norse swamped the North Manchester Trojans in a furious game. Inability to hit the hoop and to follow in shots spelled defeat for the invading Norse by the mighty Tipton cagers. Again the saving of regulars meant another setback to the H. H. S. basketeers. Wabash felt that revenge was sweet. Columbia City was the next to gain revenge for a football defeat; but the lack of time saved them, for the Norse were coming fast. Marion won its second victory at our expense in a slow game. Jefferson of Lafayette barely escaped with a two point victory in a heartbreaking game, while Bluffton tried to do likewise, but came out at the wrong end of the score.

Vikings are Fighters!





Scyldings

About the first of January a contest was held by the SCHOOL WORLD to select an appropriate name for the Seconds. The winning suggestion—the Scyldings—was submitted by Hilda Beaver, a Junior, and so we now have the Vikings and Scyldings, both teams being known for their fighting spirit.

The Scyldings very early showed form that prophesied a classy outfit to humble the ego of various other teams. They walloped the fast traveling Lancaster crew in a very fast and furious game that surely opened the eyes of the school sport world. The Seconds of Warren next tried their luck but the Reserves scrambled them by a double score in an easy game. Now came the testers of teams, the first five of the Van Buren High School, but the Scyldings were playing in fine form to nearly double the score on the invaders. For their fourth straight win the Seconds badly maimed the Junior Tigers from Peru in an easy contest by almost tripling the score on the Peruvians. Here Union Center, a ranking county team, came along and mixed things up by handing the Seconds a decisive setback in a rough, hard fought game by a big score. The Marion "B's" attempted to sting the Scyldings into submission in a special benefit game but the Scyldings used "Field Goal Healing Balm" and hence swamped them with the big score on Huntington's side. Another battle royal was staged with the local Junior "Y" Celts. It was a see-saw affair and the Seconds barely copped a one-point win.

Scyldings

Playing the last ten minutes with four men, Coach Cook's men proved their mettle in losing by only two points after forcing Warsaw to the limit to win. The raging Scyldings completely swamped the Rock Creek (Wells County) team by a doubled score. After this performance the moniker, Scyldings, was attached to the Reserves. Fortified by their new name, the Scyldings boldly entered the invitational "Second Team Tourney" at Frankfort but a bad slump wrecked havoc with their chance and the Logansport "B's" put them out in the first game. The Decatur Seconds also enjoyed a win at our expense in a hard fought game while Rock Creek gained revenge by a small margin for their former defeat. The dope was against them but the Junior Vikings went right ahead and gave the touted North Manchester Seconds a good drubbing. They next took on the tough Tipton Reserve crew and defeated them by two points.

Playing a fast steady game the Scyldings enjoyed the Wabash Junior five in a well played preliminary and emerged the victors by a good margin. The Baby Eaglets of Columbia City were captured next by a small surplus in a swift battle. The fighting Scyldings had a tough time on the floor at Union Center and the score was more than doubled on them. In one of the hardest fought games of the season the Scylds were subdued by the Lafayette "B's" in a tight defensive game by a 16 to 6 score, the smallest of the season. In their last game the noble Scyldings went down to a glorious defeat before the Bluffton Seconds by a two point margin.

Scyldings! We salute thee!

Tournament

FOR the second successive year the sectional tournament was held in the commodious Warren High School gym at Warren. Because of the disastrous results of the tourney last year, the Vikings were absolutely determined to regain the County Championship and the Courthouse as well for Huntington. With this in mind several practices were held in the Warren gym and as only eight men of the first ten could play in the sectional, the playing at Warren determined the selection of the lucky ones. Captain Petrie, Miller, Coble, Enyeart, Brebaugh, Hosler, Burgwald, and Welch upheld the name of H. H. S. in the eliminations.

Rock Creek was defeated in the first game after a hard fight. In the next round Banquo held the faltering Vikings to a three point win and this margin was only made in the last few minutes. Union Center, "Sectional Champs" and picked by many to bump the Sea Rovers was swamped by the revived Vikings in a fast game.

"Aw, Clear Crick's got a snap of it tonight," said one farmer and so many thought, but Huntington pinned its faith on Coach Krieghaum and its players. The team came on the floor late at the expense of Clear Creek's nerves. The Vikings grabbed an early lead and retained it to the final gain by the best of playing and by the wisest of generalship. The 24-22 win was sweet to Huntington and it amply avenged last year's three point loss.

The Vikings went to Logansport for the regional and met the Berries in their first game. After a general slump in the first half the Norse came back fast in the second section but the big Logansport lead could not be overcome and the Viking ship was lost.

Baseball

WITH an experienced squad of sluggers on hand, Coach Kriegbaum started another successful baseball season. Only two positions needed to be filled,—right field and first base. The lanky Welch guarded the initial bag while subs alternated in the garden position.

The pitching staff was weak at the first of the season but R. Hosler and Newell, relief hunters of last year's nine, soon showed that they could hold the opposing hitters safely. F. Hosler was the hurling find of the season. Only a Freshman, Feck went out and showed them all how to strike out "big colored Babe Ruth" with bases full and two down.

The infield, with Captain Brebaugh, Petrie, Coble, and Welch, was a bunch of bat wielders who played airtight ball and frequently caught the runners off guard by a snappy double play. The outfield was composed of such artists as Fryer, Suter, and Jay. This group was a constant terror to opposing slab artists. Fryer, one of the fastest men to play in the outfield for Huntington, frequently fooled the batters by playing close in, then running way back to gather in a long fly that seemingly was good for extra bases.

Clear Creek, the first victim of the Norse, was subdued by a 5 to 2 score. Rain stopped the whitewashing of Roanoke in the fifth inning with the score 19 to 0 in our favor. Central of Fort Wayne pounded out ten hits—one of them a home run with one man on base, while the Vikings got five singles for a final score of 9 to 5 in their favor.

Captain Brebaugh, third base; Williams, catcher; Coble, shortstop; Kitt, catcher; and R. Hosler, pitcher, have played their last game for H. H. S.

Track

WITH only one dashman, a distance runner, and a hurdle man left from last year's star team, Coach Cook began light practice early in March to develop an all around group of cindermen. Fryer, Young, and Welch formed the veteran nucleus for the team. After a few practices the team proved to be a dependable bunch of second and third place getters and gradually through intensive practices the latent ability of the younger members came to the surface.

The first test with Peru in which we were swamped, showed the defects and these were corrected for the County Meet the last of April when Huntington defended the cup won last year in the meet. Besides H. H. S., Andrews, Bippus, and Huntington Township had their star entrants from the respective schools.

Although the cool wind chilled the runners, good time was made in the events. Huntington took the lead by the stellar work of Fryer in the dashes who took two firsts and a second but in the field events Township and Andrews copped and tied the score. In the mile and half mile runs Township took the lead while Andrews and Bippus dropped out because of lack of entrants. In the hurdles Welch had bad luck and was disqualified. Township had a lead of 6 points with only the high jump to go but Burgwald jumping in his street clothes, tied with Whitelock for first place in the high jump and this won the contest for H. H. S. In an extra event our relay team swept the mile and half mile relays and set a new county record for the half mile.

The scores were Huntington 64, Township 59, Andrews 25, Bippus 8.

Coach Cook will have excellent prospects next year as all except Fults and D. Blackburn are Juniors and Sophomores.

Tennis

WITH a vision of the state title before their eyes, the Huntington High School tennis team plunged into its first season as the honored bearers of the Red and Black colors. Although this is the first year for the net game here, it is expected to be an auspicious one because every member of the team is an experienced player. Last summer these boys, representing the city of Huntington, played several other neighboring cities and won most of their meets, although generally playing against older and more experienced men. The enthusiasm for the sport came to a head this year, and as a result of the previous summer activity, tennis became a new spring sport.

Coach Kriegbaum gave the team rigorous training to develop the stamina needed in such a swift, hard game.

Difficulty was met in finding a place to practice and to hold games; but finally the Morrison Courts were obtained, and a good workout was enjoyed by all in the leveling and packing of the grounds. Due to the newness of tennis on the school sport curriculum, a hard schedule was difficult to obtain; but two matches each were booked with Central of Fort Wayne and Bluffton, and other matches with Rochester, Marion, and Hartford City were sought. If these schools are subdued then H. H. S. will make a strong bid for state honors and perhaps Middle West laurels in the annual tennis tournament at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

"H" sweaters will be given Kindler and DuHadway, while letters will be given Burgwald who received a sweater in basketball, and Ufheil who was given a sweater for football.

Class Tournament

FOR the third consecutive year the class of '28 won the interclass tournament by defeating each of the under classes in easy games for a perfect record of three games won and none lost. The frisky young Sophomores came in second by defeating the Juniors in an upset game, and panhandling the Freshmen while taking a single from the mighty Seniors. The Juniors third positon came as a result of defeating the Freshies and losing to the Seniors and Sophs. Fourth place was won by the small but swift Freshies who lost all their games.

The tournament this year was held before the regular basketball season instead of after, as in former years, so that the coaches could look over the prospective material and select the best men to try out for the varsity teams. Gordon Cook was in charge of the tourney and also acted coach for the squads. Those contests saved much time and trouble for the coaches besides being sport for the players and fans.

Enyeart, Miller and Burgwald later gained fame for themselves by the pep and ginger they put into their playing on the Vikings while Berringer, Kindler, and Warkentien made themselves known through their classy playing with the 'Y' Celts. Miller was an all-sectional forward in the eliminations at Warren while Kindler was all-state center in the 125 pound tourney at Muncie.

The members of the teams were:

SENIORS: G. Miller, Captain; Enyeart, Kindler, Berringer, Holsworth, Burgwald, Kline, and Warkentien.

JUNIORS: Newell, Captain; Hosler, Shideler, Barnhisel, Ufheil, Heaston, and Whitelock.

SOPHOMORES: R. Rudicel, Captain; Cussen, Kethcart, Shoemaker, Lahr, Bechstein, and Potts.

FRESHMEN: M. Rudicel, Captain; Carrol, J. Berringer, Derr, Guest, Chesterman, Bolinger, Krieger, Wasmuth, and C. Miller.

Top row: Morgan, Buzzard, Miles, Brickley, A. Newell, Mann, Beaver, Christy, Dungan, Robertson, E. Young, Willis, Knight, Guhl.
Second row: Coolman, R. Young, Tallman, Sheets, Shipley, Shipley, M. Newell, Kearney, M. Mehrling, H. Johnson, Streseman, Wiley, Holsworth.
Third row: Chalmers, Adams, Musselman, Schenkel, Gressley, Christ, P. Mehrling, Blackburn, Holabird, Henry, Bolinger, Beverly.
Fourth row: Ditzler, Earhart, Smith, Overholt, Walters, Sprowl, Lahr, Weaver, Barnes, Shutt.
Sitting: M. Young, Fredericks, Richardson, Hawkins, L. Johnson, Bayless, Phillips, Scudder, Lengel, Peting.

Girls Athletic Association

THE Girls' Athletic Association was reorganized at the first of the school year to carry on the work so capably started by the organizers of the club last year. The first official act on the program was the election of officers in which Lena Johnson was elected President; Marjorie Bayless, Vice-President; and Marian Lind, Secretary-Treasurer with Miss Cleo Dale Phillips as Faculty Advisor. It was decided that a constitution should be drawn up and Josephine Hawkins, Wanda Shipley, Marjorie Bayless, and Lena Johnson were selected to do this important work. Another committee consisting of Gertrude Peting, Martha Dungan, and Arzetta Brickley selected a distinctive pin for the members of the organization.

The first social event of the season was a marshmallow-weiner roast held at Memorial Park. 'Twas said to have made several converts to the wild Gypsy life. A number of business meetings were held during the winter and then the last of April a potluck supper was enjoyed in the club rooms.

This is only the second year for the organization but it has grown rapidly. Last year the membership totaled 24 while this year it has more than doubled and now over 60 girls answer the roll call. The organization is sponsored by Indiana University and has a statewide membership. All chapters are under a standardized point system. Those qualified for membership must have earned a minimum of 100 points and must have passing grades. The points are earned by making a gym class team in volleyball, baseball, basketball, tennis, skating, hiking, and swimming. Special points are given for various activities such as the Leaders Class and by passing special tests. Home health rules are observed such as eating regular meals each day, brushing the teeth twice daily, and getting eight hours sleep each night.

Standing: Frederics, Weber, Runge, Meier, Sale, Doumda, Ade, Mann, Smith, Willis, Pohler.
Sitting: Hoffman, Young, R. Pohler, Casper, Blockson, Harger, Hurd, Kiracofe, Sparks, Ewing.

Girls Swimming

THIS year Miss Phillips, the girls' athletic director, again obtained the use of the beautiful Egyptian swimming pool in the Hotel LaFontaine for the girls swimming club by the courtesy of Mr. Fred Bippus. The club was organized last year and members were recruited from the girls' gym classes. It was so successful then that it was decided to have the club again this year. Before joining the splashing class, the girls had first to take out a membership in the Hoosier Swimming Club that is sponsored by the hotel. After this was done the only other requirements was a quarter each time the class went in.

The swimming club is very valuable to the girls of the high school. The best advantage is that swimming exercises all the dormant muscles of the body and is especially beneficial to those muscles that are not called to use in ordinary sports. Another important thing is that it tends to regulate the weight of the body. The members of the club are fortunate that they get to practice in such a spacious, sanitary tank not to speak of the beautiful surroundings that make it so pleasant for all concerned.

The classes were held each Wednesday after school and this afforded a welcome break in the monotony of the school week. As many of the girls were quite proficient in the art, they went ahead and studied fancy and plain diving and water tricks under the direction of Jolly J. Barr, swimming director at the hotel. Others who were getting their first taste of swimming practice under the personal direction of Miss Phillips and by the end of the year every girl was able to take care of herself in the water.

Miss Phillips and the girls enjoyed the water games thoroughly and if possible they intend to organize another class next year.

6—School! All of the Seniors try to show their authority. Mamie Lesh arrives a day late, which isn't anything out of the ordinary.

7—Freshies accustom themselves to operating the elevator.

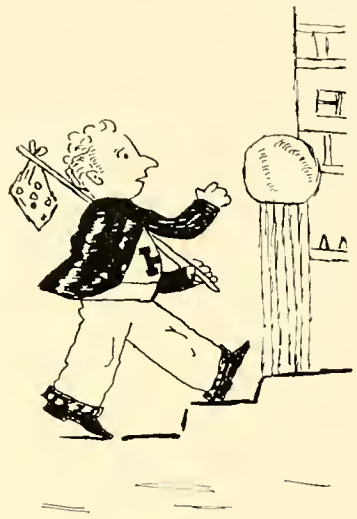
8—School dismissed at 3:15 today until sponsors are selected. Well, isn't that fine!

9—Worlds out! Jilly Ufheil receives a serious injury to his hand when he tries to suppress a yawn in class and bites the offending member.

12—Margaret Scudder elected Senior Class President. Whoops!

Miss Hoffman again heads the senior class. She certainly did her part last year in making the class a success.

13—School out in the afternoon on account of warm weather. Whee!



14—Debate on whether we would rather have hot weather and get out of school or have cool weather and come. The decision goes unanimously to the latter.

15—Marno Coble is reelected football captain. Congratulations!

16—Let's beat Wabash, Vikings!—The Hill-climbers came, saw, and took home with them the short end of a 7-6 score.

19—Jeanne Felton elected Junior Class President! Who said women were the weaker sex?

20—Sunshine Committee selected.

21—Student Council Representatives elected. Harold Bailey heads the organization.

22—Marje Bayless elected yell leader by Student Council. We're all for you, Marje! Let's have some pep!

23—Logansport! The Viks weren't going as hot as they were in the Wabash game, and when the gun went off the score stood 0-0. Too bad!

26—Mr. Krieghaum announces that he will allow no more throwing of paperwads in his class. "This annoys the people who want to sleep," said the well known coach.

27—Rex Rudicel is Sophomore President.

Mr. Cook is elected first man class advisor. Good luck, Cookie, you'll need it.

28—Freshmen organize and elect Joe Mann as their head.

29—Sunshine Initiation. S. S. S. is certainly making a success of itself in H. H. S.

30—More than 200 Huntington fans journeyed to Bluffton to see the Vikings down the Tigers with a score of 26-6. Skoal!

October

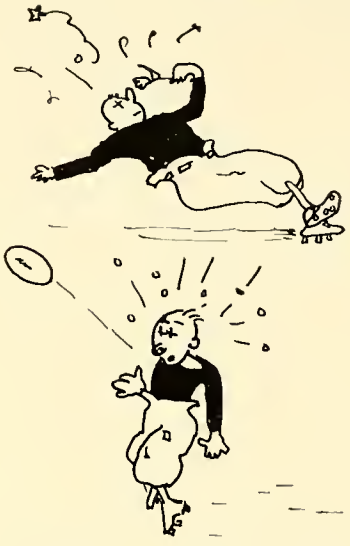
3—Fire Drill—Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors eligible for all fire drills this year. Statistics show that it is unnecessary for the Freshmen to participate in these drills.

4—The Mother Goose Lady, Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen, visits us again. Welcome!

5—Norse defeat Alumni, 6-0. That's the old fight, Vikings!

6—Underclass pictures taken. Clara Jane said that if it weren't for the blow to her family she would go west. "Go west, young woman!"

7—School was dismissed after sixth period.



8—Unlucky day for the Vikings! The overconfident Norsemen went to Kendallville expecting an easy win, and were defeated by the Prentissmen 18-0.

10—Blue Monday. Everyone gives alibis for the Kendallville defeat. Practice makes perfect.

11—Delegates to Press Convention named.

12—Sophomores meet and decide to pay dues. Good idea.

13—And on second thought, only 29 more weeks of school.

14—Glee Club selected.

15—Kokomo! The Vikings held the strong Kokomo Kats scoreless during the first period, but weakened in the second half to let the Kats beat them by a score of 25-0. Hard luck!

17—Banberry-Harrop gives musical under auspices of the Sunshine Girls. Lyman Kitt was on the verge of being thrown out, and only his good looks saved him from the same.

18—Student Council elects officers.

19—Report Cards—Oh, my dear! Johnny Satterthwaite tries to make his mother believe that "W" means wonderful. Why Johnny!
Huntington 0, Peru 0. Jilly's end runs certainly did burn 'em up, and how!

20—Bob Petrie heads new Boosters' Club. Congrats, Bobby!

21—High School Press Convention. Gertie Peting and Lucile Houser have an interesting experience. And we thought they were nice girls.

24—Practice for Class Tourney.

25—G.A.A. holds Weiner roast. Let's do something, G.A.A.!

26—Brr—Ghosts! The Juniors defy all ghosts and parade through the halls at their annual party. Oh, that we were all so brave!

27—Since we are having some colder weather, Ed. Warkentein is being good. He believes in bigger and better Christmases.

28—Homecoming Day plans are started. Let's make it the best Homecoming we've ever had. Freshman party.

29—And again we fought a 0-0 tie. Huntington 6, Warsaw 6.

November

1—Seniors defeat Sophomores—38-19. Juniors take close grame from Freshmen—26-25.

2—Seniors win class tournament for the third time in as many years. That's the old fight, Seniors!

4—Bonfire and Pep Session followed by a Snake Dance. Pep will help win that game tomorrow, Vikings.

5—HOMECOMING! Skoal to the Vikings! The Columbia City team went home with the short end of a 6-0 score. Revenge is sweet. This is the last game for many of the Norsemen. A nice way to finish out a successful season.

8—First Basketball Scrimmage. Remember Clear Creek, Vikings! All out for debate.

9—Rain and Snow. Alack! Alack! Winter is here. Juniors sponsor show, "Figures Don't Lie."

10—Auditorium! Reverend Meckstroth talked to us. "Figures Don't Lie." Joe Heaston stays for both shows and is taken forcibly from the theatre when he insists on staying for the third one.

11—Hurrah for Tommy! The Freshmen surely are showing us up.

12—The Rev. John F. Edwards talked to us in auditorium on Armistice Day.

15—Frances Beeson is said to have had her Journalism. Horrors!

16—First try-outs for debate. Let's win the pennant again this year, debaters.

18—Put the flag at half mast. The Bulldogs defeated the inexperienced Vikings by a score of 41-25. Just wait till tournament! Every dog will have his day.

19—Saturday. Lives of Clear Creek fans are jeopardized.

20—Still talking about the massacre.

22—4-1 English class prospers under Josephine. Good luck, Joe!
One more day! School will be out Wednesday at noon.

23—The Vikings get going and beat Warren 24-13. A victory over Muncie will mean a lot to you, Norse. "Vikings are fighters."

25—Vacation.

26—More vacation.

27—H. H. S. delegates to Older Boys' Conference return.

28—Back to school. Teachers wonder how some people can be so dumb and still not be twins.

29—Vikings are practicing hard for the Muncie game.

30—First real snow of the season. Bob Burgwald wants to know what makes the ground white when it snows. Gale Enyeart and Joe Heaston make the first squad. Congrats!

December

1—The Faculty played the Decatur teachers last night and won by a score of 48-22. We're really proud of our faculty. The state championship wouldn't be so bad, teachers.

2—The Bearcats upset the Viking ship by a score of 29-19. It was the best game ever played in Huntington High School's gym. The Vikings outclassed the Bearcats in teamwork. Maybe it was the new suits.

3—The Norse were again defeated by Rochester, contenders for the state title. The score stood 35-29. Not half bad, Vikings!

5—Parent-Teachers hold meeting. Mart Scudder says she loves cookies, and how!

6—Senior rings and pins! We rathah burn them. "Oh, no, I'm not a Senior. That is, you see—"

7—The seats have been removed from the students' section of the gym. They will be used to seat the standing army.

8—Negative debaters win over South Side of Fort Wayne. Let's win the pennant!

9—Peru takes game from Norse who simply couldn't get going in the first half.

10—To fill our cup of happiness the Central Tigers ran over, around, and through the tired Vikings. Sad!

12—Prof. Lewis Williams gave a demonstration on science in the auditorium. "Fat" said that "Mary had a little lamb." True?

13—Ye olde Seniors meet and decide to have a party.

14—Miss Thrailkill announces two Civics tests for Thursday and Friday. "To be or not to be, that is the?"

15—Columbia City and Huntington get a tie decision on their debate. This ends the season for the Negative debaters.

16—Viking seconds beat Marion in benefit game. Score, 39-18.

19—"Feck" Hosler elected second team captain. The seconds have been doing some nice playing. Keep it up.

20—"Scyldings" selected as name for reserve team. Let's fight, Scyldings!

21—Only 27,000 more seconds of school till vacation.

22—Vacation!!!

January

1—The day after the night before.

2—Vikings win three games during mid-year vacation. Huntington 38, Monticello 26; Huntington 28, Warsaw 26; Huntington 35, Pittsburgh Tech 13. Skoal!

3—Tryouts for Senior play. Now, Homer! Let's make this the best Senior play yet, Seniors. The Thirteenth Chair—sounds good anyway!

4—Exams!

5—Vikings vs. Elwood—It has been rumored that the Viks were beaten. Score 43-22.

6—Our confidence is renewed. Vikings 59, Spiceland 43. Too bad, Scyldings!

8—It won't be long now 'till we have about 100 new Freshies to take care of.

9—Enrollment begins. This'll be your last lap, Seniors!

10—John J. Miller gives talk. Teachers win from Bluffton—and how!

11—Adam Bede——. Birdie says that Adam keeps her up nights. If N———— only knew. Fickle woman!

12—Senior cast chosen.

13—Report cards. Vikings lose to Decatur. Now if the referee had just had a gun and a pony.

16—Everyone rents books. Oh, yes! I can remembah way back when I was a Freshman and all that sort of thing—. (Seniors)

17—"The Fair Co-Ed" goes over big. The pearl idea wasn't so bad, was it?"

18—Marion Van Pelt doesn't come to school.

19—School bearing up bravely.

20—Andrews plays Huntington. Score—censored.

21—Norse, 37; North Manchester, 28. Enough said.

23—Reece Hoffman attends class.

24—Fatality list mounts to 600.

25—Teachers beat Bluffton, 44-18. And that left handed hook!

26—Dorothy Craft is elected Vice President of S. S. S.

27—Tipton 37; Huntington, 28. (§@@-§@---)

28—Wabash, 37; Huntington, 29. (Repetition of same)

February

1—Laughing Eyes has lost part of his Hi-Y pin—or is it an excuse?

2—Sunshine Society holds initiation and Little Sister Banquet.

3—Columbia City, 55; Huntington, 39.—Too bad, Vikings.

4—And to think in those last ten seconds! Now we know what the Vikings can do—so sock it to 'em!

6—Jim dusts off the school steps for the students as they come tripping back after the week-end.

7—Seniors have new diplomas, and are they keen looking!

8—First night of Senior play. Goes over big. Bobby Petrie and Johnny Satterthwaite are afraid to come alone hence—-.

9—And the subject for discussion now is, who gave Molly Keefer the posies?

10—Senior play cast sleeps—can you blame them? Marion 33; Huntington, 28.

11—Speaking of basketball games! Now if the Vikings had only netted those last two points.

12—Post-mortem of Saturday night's game.

13—Day before Valentine's day. Young hopeful's spend day shopping.

14—And is there anything sweeter than Valentine candy? Not unless it would be flowers, says Mart.

15—High School cancels two games in order to be eligible. Hard luck! If we had only known that before.

16—"Scar-face" comes to school for luncheon given in honor of the Senior play cast by the Hi-Y. Welcome home!

17—Snow! Last game of season tomorrow night. We're not wishing Bluffton any hard luck BUT———.

18—Vikings defeat Bluffton in last home game. That's the old fight, Vikings. Now, on to the tournament and CLEAR CREEK!

20—Teachers throw party.

21—Lest we forget—Beat Clear Creek!

22—Lucile Houser has "Quill and Scroll" dinner party. Thanx, Lucile.

23—Just one more day until the day after tomorrow which will be what? Saturday!

24—We find that we have two little black sheep in our midst, namely——?

25—Celts lose in tourney to Anderson Baptists.

27—And we still believe that the Norse should Beat Clear Creek.

28—Get the old Viking fight and take the Sectional, Vikings!

March

1—Sunshine Society gives Penny Supper. Big Success, taking into consideration that the orchestra played.

2—Tournament! All roads lead to Warren—On to the finals, Huntington! We beat Rock Creek in the first round of play.

3—Did you ever see a more exciting game! Huntington, after defeating Union Center and Monument, took on Clear Creek in the finals and disposed of them by a 22-24 score. Rowdy-dow! On to the regional and Logansport.

4—Oh, dear, I feel as if I had heen through the war! Gimme some lemon juice! And that moustache! I was so glad I cried!

5—Monday, and the tournament lingers on—at least the memory does.

6—Vikings resting up for the regional.

7—Altrusa Club gives dinner for girls who attended camp. Irene Burley gives little essay on, "The medal I won at camp."

8—Hi-Y gives Annual Father and Son Banquet. A good time is had hy all. Why Bob! One shouldn't eat so much syrup!

9—Logansport tomorrow, gang; VIKINGS ALWAYS FIGHT!

10—Logansport beat the Norse, 38 to 18. That's all right, team. You fought and that's all that counts. (Note: Why are there so many good looking girls in Logansport?)

12—Everybody out for track! Join the track team and see the country, and how!

13—And now Oscar Kline wants to be introduced to Ann How! We were once young and innocent ourselves, Oscar.

14—And what did Gale do after the basketball game—oh grandmother, what a big mouth you have!

15—Athletic awards announced. Congratulations, boys!

17—Yup, I saw two robins, even.

19—Monday. All those who have their lessons will please rise and sing—"She was only a gas-collector's daughter but you oughta' meet her."

20—Bank day. "Anybody wanna bank!"

21—First day of spring. That terrible disease, spring-fever, is becoming prevalent in our dear school. What shall we do about it?

23—Mr. Day leaves his journalism class to their own resources and travels to Fort Wayne. No auditorium, how come?

26—Why teachers go insane—"I forgot what the lesson was for today?"

27—Homer Bailey comes staggering into Physics class under the burden of seven notes—what a guy!

28—County Constitutional Contest. Good luck, Lucile!

29—One more day and then spring vacation! It has been estimated by school authorities that this will save approximately 1000 hookies.

30—Friday! What' cha going to do during spring vacation?"

April

1—Four suicides and twenty attempts at it were discovered today as an aftermath of the announcement that there was to be no Spring vacation.

2—P. S. there really is Spring Vacation.

4—Huntington beats Clear Creek—5-2. R-r-revenge!

9—Statistics show that three people have their lessons for Monday. This is a very high average considering—

10—"And after we went to the dance—" etc., etc.

11—And what's this we hear about Bill Whitelock thinking that a forest preserve is a new kind of jelly?

12—Pity the poor unsuspecting boys upon whom the girls have no compassion! (Yup, it has something to do with the Leap Year Banquet.)

13—Today the Vikings tackle Roanoke. Let's have another victory, Norse! Did you hear the Orchestra and Glee Club concert?

14—The Norse thinly clads should take the county meet today. (That is if it doesn't rain, snow, hail, or what have you—and personally we don't think it will.) (P. S. It did so they didn't.)

16—Another blue Monday. But tell me, have you ever seen one that wasn't?

17—Vikings journeyed to Central of Fort Wayne to bat the ball. Results 9 to 5 in their favor. We're on "homers" next time. Wait and see! Anyhow, we're for you, Vikings win or lose.

18—The crowning point of the last four years. What? Why, the Leap Year Banquet. Girls, don't rush 'em too fast. 'Squite dangerous.

19—Can hardly wait 'till tomorrow. Yup, the Honor Society is picked.

20—Congratulations, all ye chosen! Was it to celebrate the day that the band gave a concert assisted by the Marion High School Band?

23—"Jack, you must think of the future." "I can't, it's Laura's birthday and I must think of the present."

County Track Meet, finally. Vikings win. Norse swamp Marion in tennis meet.

24—Banking day! Freshies weep. Lost, strayed, or stolen—one brass bank.

25—Quill and Scroll plans pot-luck supper. Track meet with Bluffton. Don't mention the result.

26—Mr. Day suffers after effects of the supper—how come?

27—Sunshine convention at Shelbyville, and were we THERE? Our scrap-book was judged the best of any displayed there, and our chapter won the trophy for the best society in the State. But then, what else would one expect?

28—Our band "tooted their own horns" at the district contest at Marion and won third place in Division B. Yes, there were more than three bands; there were six in that group. Not bad for the young blow-hards.

30—Wot's this we hear about Mame going to Inidana U? Sounds bad!

May

1—Vikings win from South Side, their old rivals! Skoal! Season's greetings, Happy May Day, and what not! The Sunshine girls presented a sun dial to H. H. S. for the front lawn.

2—Just another day. "And don't you remember the last time we played South Side in football—mud—et cetera." We were warned about our feet in auditorium.

3—Quill and Scroll entertained by Helen Miles in Fort Wayne. Journalism Class finally got "that trip to Fort Wayne," too.

4—Hi-Y holds annual "Best Girl Banquet." Wonder if there was any reason why some of the couples were the same as those at the Sunshine Leap Year Banquet?
Big Recognition Day in auditorium. Honor Society, letter winners, et cetera are presented to the student body.

8—One of our dear Freshmen told us that he would like to join the Honor Society. My, my, what a noble ambition!

9—Gosh, it's getting warm! All of which reminds us that Graduation is nigh.

10—"And I have a yellow hat to match with the sweetest brim." Current conversation at this time of the merrie olde month of May.

11—Baseball game tomorrow. Let's win another, Vikings!

12—The boys certainly did go hot this afternoon. Something tells us that it was partly because Marno's "Sugar" was watching him.

15—Last week of school for the Seniors.

16—Tests—more tests.

19—"Didn't the last week go fast?"—and so on, and so on, far into the P. M.

21—Baccalaureate Services tonight. Somehow, we feel sorry for the poor Seniors who are going out into the cruel, cruel world.

24—Junior-Senior Reception—and what a reception it was!

25—The saddest and gladdest day of the year. "All these things are gone but I have them in my soul."

Au revoir, adios, guten tag, in other words, GOODBYE!

What's to Become of Old H. H. S. ?

"YEA, verily, verily, I say unto you: Do unto others first before they do unto you."

With these words the venerable Class of '28 was sent forth to crash open the portals of that famous institution of learning known as Huntington High School. With much tearing of hairs and gnashing of teeths they took up their scholarly duties with an ardor that astounded their instructors.

In their ranks were athletes, scholars, statesmen, and those known as dumbbells. There's Coble, for instance, who made himself famous by taking a special course in football given by a correspondence course from Knute Rockne. Jilly Ufheil, who is noted for his ear to ear grin in Ipana toothpaste ads, acquired this by having a perpetual smile on his face when he passed the girl's corridor. Marjorie Bayless who astounded the teachers by her profound wisdom and learning. Lyman Kitt, our sedate and stately Hi-Y president. Alice Ditzler also went in for politics and procured herself the office of State Sunshine president. There are numbered in this class many more too numerous to mention here, who have made for themselves a place in the memory of many of us who know them.

Soon after their advent into this institution they were bewildered by the many strange sights and sounds, among them being the sound that strikes fear to the stoutest heart among them—the signal calling them to auditorium. With a tremor of fear and fast palpitating hearts they betook themselves thither and thence and listened to the discourse of Charles Emory, the Fearless. Many times since then have they been called on a like mission, but it holds no terror for them as did this fearful day.

Many toil-filled days did they labor and sweat over Caesar and his arguments with the enemy. Long nights did they spend with Algebra and Geometry, and finally they entered into their last year of school.

Now that they are Seniors the handling of school affairs would simply be turned over to them. The halls where they had seemed so afraid and so lonesome and abandoned were now traversed with a dignity only a Senior can attain. They kidded the Freshies and dropped into the office once in a while to see that the affaires d'ecole were being properly handled, and to chat with Mr. Byers.

It so happened that time went on, as it has a habit of doing, and Commencement time was here. In due time with all pomp and ceremony the children were issued sheepskins and advice galore. They were pawed over, wept over, raked over, and knocked over, and then equipped with weapons which their instructors thought were suitable for them to use in the hard battle of life, and in the gaining of their livelihood. And so it came to pass that another class had passed, and we doubt very much if we're going to be able to reopen the school next year due to the loss of such a capable class in relieving the instructors of their responsibility of handling school affairs.

Thus ye have, we being in sound mind and body, the story of the matriculation and transition of the Class of '28—and oh, what a class!
